

EXTEND BATTLEFIELDS IN EAST AND WEST

FIGHTING OF EXTREME VIOLENCE CONTINUES BY DAY AND NIGHT

No Definite Decision is Reached in Either Region—The Campaign Against Turkey is Awaiting Commencement of a New and Bigger Effort to Force the Dardanelles.

London, April 10.—(10:30 p. m.)—There has been a considerable extension of the battlefields both in the Carpathians and in the Woever district of France where fighting of extreme violence continues by day and night, without, however, any definite decision having been reached in either region.

Russ Command Principle Mountains
The Russians have made themselves masters of the principal chain of mountains from Dukla Pass to Uzkok Pass and have begun an attack on the German forces which hold the hills from the latter pass eastward to the Beskid pass. This section of the Carpathians has been the scene since early February of many fierce encounters between the Germans, who were sent to help the Austrians in their fruitless efforts to relieve Przemyśl and the Russian army whose task it was to hold them back until the fall of the fortress.

Check Russian Advance.

Now this German army has been given another task, that of trying to prevent the Russians from straightening out their line which is necessary before the invasion of Hungary is undertaken. It is apparent that this army has succeeded in at least checking the Russian advance, as the Austrian official report claims a victory for the Germans in this sector, while the Russians admit that they have been unable to capture hill 992, which lies about midway between Uzkok and Beskid passes. As the Russians have immense forces at their disposal and splendid railways to take them to the front, confidence is expressed they will succeed as they did in the Laborza Valley in countering this check. The British military writers however, warn the public that they must not expect a speedy conclusion of the Carpathian battles, as the Russians still have serious obstacles to overcome and the further they advance through the mountains the more difficult will be the task of keeping their armies supplied.

Hammer at Two Sides of Wedge.

The French army in the Woever is hammering at the two sides of the German wedge which was driven into the French lines as far as St. Mihiel early in the war and which thus far has remained firm and simultaneously has attacked the German front which passes close to the Lorraine border between Nancy and Chateau Salins.

The capture of Les Eparges, on the northern side of the wedge, appears to have been the most marked success the French have gained after almost a fortnight's fighting, although the manner in which the Germans are counter-attacking in the forest of Montmarie to the south-east would indicate that they feel the French pressure from that direction most severely.

All the other attacks the Germans claim to have repulsed with heavy losses to the French.

As if the battles in the Carpathians and the Woever were enough for one time the campaigns in other parts of Europe and in Asia seem to have come to a standstill. There has been isolated fighting along the east Prussian border and along the Yser river in Flanders but the engagements have been small affairs as compared with the two great battles. The Russians and Turks occasionally come into conflict in the Caucasus but on the whole the campaign of the allies against Turkey is awaiting the commencement of the bigger effort to force the Dardanelles.

Germany's note to the United States objecting to that country supplying arms and ammunition to the allies is given a prominent place in the news of the day but has not yet been commented upon.

ORDER CARGO OF STEAMER NAVAJO TO A PRIZE COURT

LONDON, Apr. 10.—(6:17 p. m.)—The cargo of cotton on the American Steamer Navajo from Galveston for Bremen was ordered to a prize court today under the order in council cutting off all trade to and from Germany. This is the first cargo avowedly detained under the order. The Navajo has been held at Kirkwall since April 7th.

The Swedish steamship Bia, from Savannah for Gothenburg with a cargo of cotton also is being held pending an investigation of the destination of her cargo. The vessel arrived at Kirkwall on March 30th, and was taken to Liverpool today.

NAME COMMITTEE TO SELECT CONVENTION CITY

Milwaukee, Wis., April 10.—Minneapolis, Minn., Cedar Rapids, Iowa, or Peoria, Ill. will entertain the Northwestern Roads congress in 1915, it was decided by the board of directors meeting here today. President J. W. Cooley, vice-president John H. Hazelwood, and Secretary J. P. Keenan were named a committee to select the convention place from the three cities named.

SAYS LOSS OF LIFE ON F-4 IS DUE TO DANIELS' NEGLIGENCE

Representative Gardner Criticizes
Secretary of Navy at Dinner Given to Reserve Army.

Washington, April 10.—Representative Gardner of Massachusetts gave a dinner here tonight to the reserve army of the United States. Eight of the sixteen reservists attended. The proceedings were intended to express the views of the diners on the state of the national defenses.

Mr. Gardner made the principal speech and referred to the recent loss of the submarine F-4 which he characterized as a "gruesome comment on Secretary Daniels' policy of peaceful persuasion, and pretense of preparedness."

"The loss of life on the F-4," he said, "is due to Secretary Daniels' neglect of the submarines."

He related an incident which he said occurred a year ago when in the minds of many peoples there was serious danger of international trouble in the Pacific ocean.

A joint board of army and navy officers he said, went to President Wilson with recommendations that certain precautions be taken immediately.

"The president gasped with anger at the effrontery of these distinguished officers," Representative Gardner said, "and promptly forbade the board to meet again. If this statement of mine is denied I challenge the president to permit a public investigation."

SELECT SEWARD-FAIRBANKS ROUTE FOR ALASKAN RAILWAY

Property of the Alaskan Northern Railway from Seward over the First Stage of the Journey Has Been Purchased for $1,150,000.

Washington, April 10.—The Seward-Fairbanks route has been selected for the government railway in Alaska, Secretary Lane announced late today. The property of the Alaskan Northern railway from Seward over the first stage of the journey has been purchased for $1,150,000.

The government system, the statement adds, will include a 38 mile branch to tap the Matanuska coal fields. W. C. Eades is designated as chairman of the Alaskan Engineering commission which will build the road by the president's order. The estimated cost of the entire system is given at $26,800,000. Congress provided not to exceed $35,000,000.

Secretary Lane said construction work would be begun at once and that probably forty miles of the extension of the Alaskan Northern from Ship Creek would be completed this year. Construction will be carried on under contract, individual contractors building separate units of roadway. In one of the orders signed by the president the Alaskan commission was instructed to guard particularly the health of the men at work and to adopt a system of compensation for accidents similar to that in force on the Panama canal.

KITCHENER CALLS ON CANADA FOR SECOND EXPEDITIONARY FORCE

Announcement in Canadian Parliament is Received With Cheers
From Both Parties.

Ottawa, Ont., April 10.—Lord Kitchener has called on Canada for a second expeditionary force. The news given parliament tonight by Premier Sir Robert Borden was said particularly the health of the men at work and to adopt a system of compensation for accidents similar to that in force on the Panama canal.

The announcement of Lord Kitchener's call was received with cheers from both parties in the house.

"So far as at present can be foreseen," the premier said, "a total number of about 150,000 men will be required should the war last another year. That is to say, an original force of 50,000 plus 50,000 sent overseas for reinforcements plus 50,000 in Canada under training."

WILL MAKE TEXT OF GERMAN COMPLAINT PUBLIC TODAY

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The German embassy here will make public tomorrow the text of a recent note to the United States complaining that nothing had been accomplished by the Washington government towards obtaining foodstuffs for the civilian population of Germany. The note also contends that the continued shipment of arms to the allies is not in accord with the spirit of neutrality, even though legal.

At the German embassy it was stated that these questions had been repeatedly pressed by the German government in recent diplomatic correspondence with the United States. State department officials would not discuss the note but the reply of the American government was said to be nearing completion today and probably will be delivered early next week.

DECIDE ON IMMEDIATE EFFORTS FOR WATERWAY

CONCLUSION IS REACHED AFTER TRIP OVER PROPOSED ROUTE

President Wilson Commends Efforts of Governor to Obtain a Through Waterway—Senator Lewis Says
Federal Government is Ready to Aid.

Peoria, Ill., April 10.—After making a few minor changes at the suggestion of engineers immediate efforts will be made by the state administration to obtain the passage by the present legislature of the bill providing for the building of the proposed deep waterway, for the connecting of the great lakes with the Gulf of Mexico, via the Chicago drainage canal, the Illinois-Michigan canal and the Illinois and Mississippi rivers. This conclusion was reached tonight by Governor Dunne and some of the members of the legislature after they had concluded an investigating trip from Joliet to this city, covering the route of the proposed eight foot waterway.

When the governor, United States Senator Lewis and members of waterways commission of the legislature, arrived here announcement was made that Governor Dunne had received a telegram from President Wilson today at LaSalle commending the governor's efforts for the obtaining of a through waterway.

Governor Dunne told of President Wilson's message in a speech tonight at a banquet given for the waterway's party by the Peoria association of commerce. He also explained some of the difficulties which will have to be overcome by the engineers in the building of the proposed waterway and explained in detail the plan suggested.

Senator Lewis said the federal government is ready to appropriate the $1,000,000 to aid in the construction of the proposed waterway just as soon as the project is undertaken by the state government.

Visit Site of Proposed Dam.
The party of state officials came here from Ottawa, after making stops at Starved Rock, where it is proposed to build a massive dam, and at LaSalle where the Illinois and Michigan canal connects with the Illinois river. The trip from Ottawa to Starved Rock and from LaSalle to Peoria was made by boat.

Governor Dunne announced that one of the first obstacles in the present waterway plan—of destroying the sewage system of Ottawa by raising the present river level—would be taken under consideration by the engineers having the plan in hand. Objections that the administration plan will result in the flooding of large sections of valuable lowlands along the river have been exaggerated, according to Governor Dunne who announced that the state proposes paying a reasonable price for all private lands inundated.

ENRAGED MINERS DRIVE POLICE JUDGE AND MERCHANT FROM TOWN

Exiles Assert They Were Falsely Accused of Attempting to Induce Relatives of Eleven Miners Recently Killed, to Compromise.

Hillsboro, Ill., April 10.—D. R. Bennett, police judge of Panama, Ill., and Charles Sereno, merchant of that city, arrived here tonight and told how they had been driven from Panama by 200 enraged miners. The miners, Bennett and Sereno said, had falsely accused them of attempting to induce the relatives of eleven miners recently killed in an explosion to compromise with the company.

The exiles attributed their plight to stories circulated by a Chicago lawyer who had failed to get contracts from survivors of the mine explosion authorizing him to sue the Shoal Creek Coal company at whose mine the accident occurred. The company is owned by Chicago men. Today State's Attorney Major and Sheriff Johnson went to Panama to avert threatened disorders.

CHICAGO'S MAYOR-ELECT TO TAKE TRIP IN HOUSEBOAT

Plans to Float Down Illinois and Mississippi Rivers to Memphis Accompanied by Political Advisers.

Chicago, April 10.—In a houseboat built to accommodate thirty persons, Mayor-elect William Hale Thompson will leave Peoria, Illinois on Monday night, accompanied by close political advisers. He plans to float down the Illinois river to the Mississippi, thence to Memphis, Tenn., where the party will abandon the houseboat and return to Chicago ready to assume the direction of Chicago's municipal affairs.

The party expects to be gone two weeks, it was announced today. Four little city halls or branch offices are to be opened in different parts of Chicago if Mr. Thompson's present plans are carried out. The idea was explained by James A. Pugh, an intimate friend of Mr. Thompson.

"Mayor Thompson will spend a few hours each week in the offices on the north, south, west and north-west sides of the city," Mr. Pugh said. "People will get to know him and he will learn municipal needs."

War News Summarized

The fighting around LesEparges, in the Woever district of France, during the past two months and the final assaults which gained for the French this important strategic position cost the Germans 30,000 men.

This is the estimate made by the French war office in its latest official statement which, however, gives no idea of the French losses. It announces still further progress by the French forces in their furious onslaughts upon the German lines, which are drawn up between the Meuse and the Moselle rivers as the protecting wall for Metz, the great German fortress of Alsace Lorraine.

Since the capture of LesEparges by the allies there has been no counter-attack on this position, which dominates the plains of the Woever and whose occupation gave the allied forces one of the main objectives for which they had been striving for weeks.

Of almost equal interest to the attempt of the French to force back the Germans in France is the continued drive of the Russians in the Carpathians, where they now control the principal chain of mountains between Dukla and Uzkok Passes and are attacking the Germans and Austrian forces to the east of Uzkok.

The Austrian report of this battle says that furious fighting is in progress and that the German troops have captured a height to the north of Tucholka after an engagement lasting several days. Here the Germans took more than 1,000 prisoners. It added that strong attacks delivered by the Russians in the Oper Valley have failed, the Russians sustaining severe losses.

The latest Russian official statement says that the Muscovites took the offensive in the direction of Mezolaborz and dislodged the opposing forces from Wirawa. The Russians also captured height 909, a much disputed position which means, they claim, that the enemy has been driven back throughout the whole of the principal chain of the Carpathians in the region of the Russian offensive.

The Russians also repulsed violent counter-attacks in the direction of Rostoki and captured a thousand prisoners.

In Russian Poland to the west of the Niemen river, the Russians attacked the German positions between Kalkarya and Ludwinow and captured two lines of trenches after a stubborn fight with the bayonet. In this fight Petrograd claims the Russians took six hundred prisoners.

There is no news concerning the operations in the Dardanelles and temporarily there appears to be a lull in other naval operations. The cargo of cotton on the American steamship Navajo has been ordered before a British prize court. This action was taken under the order-in-council cutting off all trade to and from Germany. The cargo of the Navajo, shipped from Galveston for Bremen, is the first to be detained avowedly under this order.

The British steamer Harpaluce under charter to the commission for relief in Belgium and the first relief boat of New York state has met with disaster in North Sea, either having been torpedoed or sunk by a mine. The steamer carried a crew of 53 men and it is feared that 26 of them have been drowned.

The Dutch steamer Eliza Beth, from Rotterdam to New York, picked up 22 of the crew and took them back to Rotterdam while the Dutch Steamer Constance Catharina rescued five men taking them to Nieuwe Waterweg. The Harpaluce as a relief ship had a permit securing immunity from attack.

TO TEST CONSTITUTIONALITY OF CLAUSE IN RESERVE ACT

Trust Company of American Banking Association to Bring Action.

New York, April 10.—The constitutionality of that clause in the federal reserve act allowing national banks, where state laws do not intervene to exercise the powers of trust companies, is to be tested by the trust company section of the American banking association it was announced tonight by Uzal M. McCarter, chairman of the executive committee of that section and president of the Fidelity Trust company of Newark, N. J. The proposed test of the federal law, it was stated, was decided upon at a recent meeting of bankers in New York at which a resolution was adopted retaining counsel for the executive committee of the trust company section and a committee of five appointed to arrange the details in connection with the proposed litigation.

Mr. McCarter stated that although the American bank association as an organization had decided, it appeared, not to test the constitutionality of the clause, the members felt that the entire subject of corporate trusteeship was in jeopardy and that the interest of the trust of the country were adversely affected, unanimously adopted after a complete discussion, a resolution to make a test.

AMERICANS APPEAL FOR AID TO LEAVE MEXICO

THREE HUNDRED ASK FOR TRANS- PORTATION FROM TAMPICO

Situation There is Reported Officially to be Serious—Officials Discuss Arrangements for Use of Army Transports for Refugees.

Washington, April 10.—Three hundred unemployed Americans have appealed to the state department for transportation from Tampico to the United States. The situation there was reported officially today to be serious. Food is scarce and the fighting at Ebano and vicinity indicates an early attack on the city.

Takes Cruiser to Tampico.
Rear-Admiral Caperton with the Cruiser Washington went to Tampico from Vera Cruz on his own initiative to join the gunboats Petrel and Sacramento. Officials here discussed arrangements for the use of army transports which will be sent on Monday for the Tampico refugees if the state department formally requests them. The state department had no news from the Celaya district where the forces of General Obregon and General Villa had been engaged in skirmishing preliminary to what is expected to be an important battle.

George C. Carothers, American consular agent usually at Villa headquarters, has gone to Guadalupe to make representations to the local Villa authorities concerning the percentage tax to be imposed on foreign property and to which the British government as well as the United States has taken exception. The Villa agency here protested to the state department today on the behalf of General Villa against the expected presence of General Huerta on American territory alleging that he intends to violate neutrality by starting a hostile movement against Mexico. No action was taken on the communication.

Will Not Bar Huerta.
The state department does not intend to interpose any objection to the admission of Huerta when he arrives in New York tonight or tomorrow but will probably take under consideration any proof of alleged violations of neutrality which the Villa agency might present.

Word was received late today that Leonard C. Worcester, Jr., the American assayer who has been in jail in Chihuahua for several months as the result of some difficulties over ore shipments was about to be released on bail by the Villa authorities as the consul had requested. A message from Brownsville, tonight to the Carranza agency says: "The movement of the Villa troops upon Matamoros seems to have resulted in a complete failure."

A message signed by General Villa and sent from Irapuato late today was received by the Villa agency here tonight and read as follows: "In several encounters which were had today the enemy was completely defeated."

WILLARD GIVES EXHIBITIONS AT PHILADELPHIA AND NEW YORK

Champion Shows Marked Improvement in his work—Demonstrates Blows He Used to Conquer Johnson.

Philadelphia, April 10.—Jess Willard, the new pugilistic champion, spent the greater part of today in Philadelphia. Tonight he boxed three short rounds with his sparring partner at one of the athletic clubs and at 9 o'clock left for New York, where he was to appear later in the night in a boxing exhibition.

Shows Marked Improvement.
New York, April 10.—Jess Willard, world's champion heavy-weight arrived here at 10:30 tonight and was greeted at the railroad station by a large and enthusiastic crowd in which were many women. The special train made the run from Philadelphia in an hour and thirty-five minutes.

The throng, which had been waiting about two hours paraded behind the champion up Seventh avenue to a local sporting club where Willard sparred three one and half minute exhibition rounds with a sparring partner, Walter Monahan and demonstrated the blows he had used in conquering Jack Johnson. In his exhibition the cowboy showed marked improvement in his work in comparison to the bouts in which he had participated here.

TO RELEASE BARRON.

Atlanta, Ga., April 10.—Federal penitentiary officials here announced today that Elwyn A. Barron, editor of "Good Words", the prison newspaper, would be released tomorrow after having served one year for participation in the Sterling Debeater corporation mail fraud cases. He was convicted in New York and given a three year sentence but President Wilson commuted his term to one year.

ONE DIES IN PRARIE FIRE.

Bismark, N. D., April 10.—One man dead, two others probably fatally injured and three others seriously injured when an iron girder at an automobile plant was dislodged today by a windstorm.

The throng, which had been waiting about two hours paraded behind the champion up Seventh avenue to a local sporting club where Willard sparred three one and half minute exhibition rounds with a sparring partner, Walter Monahan and demonstrated the blows he had used in conquering Jack Johnson. BELGIAN RELIEF SHIP IS EITHER TORPEDOED OR SUNK BY MINE

Dutch Steamer Picks Up Twenty-two of the Crew—It is Feared Twenty-six Have Been Drowned.

Rotterdam, April 10.—via London, April 11.—(1:45 a. m.)—The British Steamer Harpaluce, the first relief boat of New York state and under charter to the commission for relief in Belgium, has either been torpedoed or sunk by a mine in the North Sea. The Dutch Steamer Eliza Beth on its voyage from Rotterdam for New York picked up 22 of the crew of the Harpaluce seven miles northeast of Noordhinder Lightship and brought them back to Rotterdam. The Dutch steamer Constance Catharina picked up five men and took them to Nieuwe Waterweg. The steamer carried a crew of 53 men, 26 of whom, it is feared, have been drowned.

Those rescued by the Eliza Beth included the second mate and the second engineer the latter in a wounded condition. The Harpaluce, under its charter to the Belgian relief commission, had a permit securing immunity from attack.

Ship Was Torpedoed.
Amsterdam, April 10.—via London, April 11.—(1:28 a. m.)—The Harpaluce was torpedoed seven miles off Noordhinder. The Dutch steamer Eliza Beth was first to the rescue and 28 of the crew were rescued by the vessel. Two others are believed to have been saved by the American Steamer Ruby. Some of the survivors were badly wounded. The captain and first engineer are thought to have been drowned.

Survivors say that they heard nothing but an explosion. The vessel sank in five minutes and there was no time to lower boats.

The captain of the Eliza Beth says that he clearly saw the periscope of a submarine.

The Harpaluce, which was of 3,669 tons, was a comparatively new steamer owned by J. and C. Harrison of London. She sailed from New York on March 7th with more than 11,000 individual gifts for the relief of the Belgians and arrived at Rotterdam on March 30th. It is presumed that the Harpaluce's cargo had been unloaded and that she was on her return voyage. She was commanded by Captain Frank Wamm, who prior to his departure from New York declared that he was not worried about mines or submarines.

LABOR LEADERS DO NOT CONSIDER STRIKE SITUATION HOPELESS

There is an Undercurrent of Feeling That a General Strike in New York Might Be Averted.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 10.—Despite failure to adjust the difficulty between the Brotherhood of locomotive engineers and the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway employees, labor leaders tonight did not consider the strike situation entirely hopeless. There was an undercurrent of feeling that a general strike might be averted. Strike votes will be taken in this city and in Buffalo on Monday night according to Mangus Sinclair, organizer of the Amalgamated association. The Rochester division has empowered its president to appoint a committee to call a strike at his discretion.

Justice William S. Andrews today denied the motion of the New York state railways to vacate the injunction restraining the company from preventing the Auburn and Syracuse cars running over state railway tracks in this city. No attempt however, has yet been made to resume the Syracuse-Auburn traffic.

The Auburn and Syracuse railroad will be opened tomorrow with strike-breakers according to a statement made by General Manager Gozenbach of the Empire railways.

PUBLISH DOCUMENTS CONCERNING "INTERNATIONAL LAW VIOLATIONS"

BERLIN, April 10.—By wireless to Saville, L. I.—The foreign office at Vienna has published a Red Book containing nearly 1250 official documents concerning violations of international laws by hostile governments since the outbreak of the war. These reports disclose astounding cruelties by Russian invaders and Serbian irregulars. The Constantinople correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung reports that the recent efforts of the Triple Entente powers to persuade Bulgaria to aid them with an army corps failed utterly.

Privy councillor Dr. Robert Platz, a member of the imperial insurance board, is dead at the age of 62. He was well known in America and was intimately acquainted with American economic conditions.

IRON GIRDER FALLS; KILLS MAN.

Toledo, O., April 10.—Two men were killed, one was probably fatally injured and three others seriously injured when an iron girder at an automobile plant was dislodged today by a windstorm.

MCARTY OUTFIGHTS RODEL.

TELLS COMMISSION OF HAVOC AMONG STRIKERS

FRANK COMERFORD TESTIFIES AT IN- DUSTRIAL RELATIONS HEARING

Traces Sixteen Cases of Suicide to Strike of Shopmen on the So-Called Harriman Lines—Ten Percent of Men Had to Seek Charity.

Chicago, April 10.—The havoc wrought among the 30,000 shopmen, whose strike against the so-called Harriman lines in 1911 was lost, was sketched statistically today before the United States commission on industrial relations.

Sends Out Question Blanks.
The witness was Frank Comerford, for many years attorney for the men. One thousand question blanks were sent at random to the strikers thirty four months after the strike. His figures, Mr. Comerford explained, applied to these thousand men and he thought that a fair social survey of the whole number could be obtained by multiplying his figures by thirty.

Of the thousand men whose replies were checked up, 186 were single when the strike was called on September 30th, 1911. There were 1,743 children, a small number, which he thought might be traced to low wages and a subnormal scale of living.

Ten Suicides to Strike.
Forty-two per cent of the men owned their homes or were buying them. The strike cost 15 per cent of these their homes and of the whole number 91 per cent moved from their lowly dwellings to even cheaper quarters. Twelve percent of the strikers had to sell their furniture and 10 percent to seek charity. The average period of idleness occasioned by the strike was one year. The witness claimed that he had traced sixteen cases of suicide to the strike and nine cases of insanity.

"This in brief, is an attempt to represent human values in dollars," Mr. Comerford said.

Portions of the testimony of Mr. Comerford and of Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific, formed a symposium on the force of public opinion and the channels by which it is influenced.

Public Opinion Settles Strikes.
Mr. Kruttschnitt expressed view that public opinion settled most strikes and generally with a correct version. He suggested the need of a vehicle by which both sides of a labor controversy could be presented to the public, remarking that such an agency was available in Canada.

Mr. Comerford stated that of 116 cases of strikers defended by himself, 115 resulted in acquittals. "Not through any cleverness of mine but on the merits of the case. The arrests appealed more to the news instincts of the editors than the dismissals, however, and the fact that 115 of the men were innocent brought far less publicity than the facts of their arrests."

"I do not attempt to criticize the newspapers in this connection—it just happened that way," the witness continued. "Yet public opinion was influenced against the strikers just in proportion as their arrests were more widely publicized than their acquittals. One page of the Metropolitan advertising which the railroads bought would take a year's salary of a shopman. We believe in public opinion as Mr. Kruttschnitt does, but these facts speak for themselves."

Mr. Comerford spoke of how Illinois Central employees are scattered along the railroad towns in influential positions.

Control Road's Politics.

"Lemon and Lemon, Clinton, Ill., attorneys for the road at that point, control its politics," asserted the lawyer. "The mayor of the town is a paid surgeon of the road and the business incomes of other officials of the city depend to some extent on the railroad. It seems unlikely, in this connection that honest mistakes were made in the arrests of 115 men out of 116."

The witness said that coal mines which could not obtain sufficient cars from the Illinois Central because of the strike sued the railroad and obtained damages. But the miners who were thrown out of work by the same cause—"there was no way for them to recover," he said.

The hearing will be resumed Monday with Mr. Comerford on the stand.

Municipal Flag for Chicago.

Chicago wants a municipal flag. The State Journal suggests a black square of bunting with a scarlet woman in the center foreground, supported on one side by a whiskey agent, on the other by a gang politician, one holding aloft a jug of whiskey, the other a scoundrel of beer. At the rear is seen a multi-millionaire, swinging a huge hammer as he fells human beings. From the pile of mangled bodies of women and children at his feet flows a river of blood, upon the banks of which are seen wheat gamblers, anarchists, prostitutes, patent medicine fakirs, gunmen, confidence men, gamblers, bank robbers, dynamiters, grafters, pickpockets, murderers, fakirs and other criminals in endless variety. Across the bottom is the motto: "Hell Has Nothing on Us."

War on the "Jitney Busses."

There seems to be a conflict materializing in the city of New York over the "jitney bus" says the State Register. It appears that the jitney is interfering somewhat with profits of the Interborough Traction company of the metropolis, the biggest monopoly public utility in the metropolis.

The New York Times is making faces at the jitney as an interloper that is not desirable and should not be encouraged. The Times says: "The jitney is a guerrilla of public service, an Ishmael of local transportation, an ill-regulated intruder on the thoroughfares, doubtless of some benefit in communities, otherwise poorly provided with transit facilities."

The New York World includes New York "in the communities" where the jitney is of "benefit" and says in reply to The Times: "Including New York, of course, and permanently. In many such communities the jitney has forced transportation companies that have long taken immense profits from strap-hangers to discover that they really can furnish better service at or all. No board of health order is needed when the jitney talks."

It is evident that monopoly in New York does not want any kind of competition, just like monopoly elsewhere. Monopoly always wants the "double cream" profits which in street railway parlance is what the strap-hangers furnish. The New York Interborough Traction company's war on the jitney will be watched with interest.

How to Spend the Sabbath.

Judge John J. Brady of New York recently was asked to express his views of the right and proper way to spend Sunday. The decision of the Judge, is a good one, and is as follows:

"The morning should be given over to church; it is God's day; first thoughts should be of Him."

"Good example is the duty of the parents on Sunday and every other day."

"On the return from church, good reading for the children is important and the parent should see to it."

"Acts of mercy should then be turned to; visit the hospital, the asylum, a sick friend, or perform some acts of mercy on this day."

"Every man should be as good as his religion."

"A part of Sunday should be spent in the home, and this is the part of Sunday that the father should devote to showing his children."

RUSSIAN LIFE IS THEME OF HARPER

ILLINOIS COLLEGE ALUMNI HEAR ENLIGHTENING DISCOURSE.

Russia of Ideals Will Prevail Against Russia of Compulsion Says University of Chicago Man in Address Last Night—William J. Bryan Sends Greetings to Alma Mater.

With love for the "white and blue" and good will toward everyone prevailing, Illinois alumni enjoyed at Academy hall last evening the first annual banquet of the Jacksonville Society of Illinois college. From the alumni and alumnae residing here the banquet received strong support and hearty greetings from old college boys the country over spoke of the school as a living force in the lives of graduates and former students.

Samuel H. Harper, of the University of Chicago, son of that school's honored president, William Rainey Harper, gave an address on "Russian Life and Literature." Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp, president of the college spoke in appreciation of alumni interest and support and H. H. Bancroft read letters and telegrams from Illinois' best known and most successful sons, among them William Jennings Bryan, secretary of state.

Officers as follows were elected by the society at the business session:

President—H. H. Bancroft.
Vice president—George L. Merrill.
Secretary and treasurer—A. R. Gregory.

The banquet was arranged by a committee composed of Dr. Carl E. Black, W. G. Goebel, Walter Bellatti and Ralph L. Dunlap. Dr. Black as outgoing president was chairman of the evening and local alumni and the alumni fund were represented by Mr. Bellatti and Mr. Dunlap. The catering was done by the Colonial Inn and the banquet was well appointed and well served.

There are two Russias, the Russia of compulsion and the Russia of ideals, said Dr. Harper, and of these two empires the latter will prevail. To many the mention of Russia brings to mind autocracy, bureaucracy, Siberian exile, illiteracy and peasants overcome with drink. Such forget the sturdy virtues of the land of Tolstoi, the author of Tschaiakowsky, the artist, and of Metchnikoff, the pioneer in science.

After every crisis in Russian history we note outbursts of a strong idealism. Such an outbreak occurred after the Crimean war when the serfs were freed, another was apparent in 1905-'06, when the Duma was formed and since the great war's outbreak there has occurred another of these manifestations of intense spiritual energy."

Dr. Harper took in consideration three types of Russian—the intellectual, the landed gentry and the peasant. He delineated each with description and anecdote and closed his talk with illustrated views of Russian life.

Several clever cartoons of local celebrities by Edward Bullard were shown by way of diversion at the close of the business portion of the meeting and just before Dr. Harper's address. The messages read by Mr. Bancroft were sent by the following:

William J. Bryan, department of state, Washington, D. C.
J. F. Downing, Kansas City, Mo.
Ralph Wendell Cooke, Chicago.
George J. Kneeland, New York.
Frederick C. Tanner, New York.
Harry McDonald, Jacksonville.
Julian M. Sturtevant, Cleveland, O.
Richard Yates, Springfield.
Albert Baldwin, Duluth, Minn.
George Edwin Baxter, Chicago.
Lloyd L. Adams, St. Louis.
Hugh M. Wilson, New York.
Edward Capps, Princeton university.
J. W. Putnam, Butler college, Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. Cooke sent greetings from the Chicago society of Illinois college alumni. Mr. Kneeland spoke for the New York society and Mr. Adams sent words of congratulations from St. Louis alumni.

NICARAGUAN REVOLUTIONISTS HAVE MET CRUSHING DEFEAT

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Nicaraguan revolutionists said to be headed by Salvador Castillio, formerly minister to the United States, have met crushing defeat, according to advices today to the Nicaraguan minister here, Mr. Chamorro. The rebels were routed yesterday in a battle twelve miles south of Managua, the capital.

Mr. Chamorro said the backbone of the revolution had been broken by the fact that the rebels had failed to win over any of the government troops. Because of the financial stringency in Nicaragua and the failure of the treaty with the United States, which would have given the government $3,000,000, Nicaragua had recalled her diplomats except Mr. Chamorro, it was learned leaving her affairs at other capitals than Washington in the hands of consular representatives.

STATES TRADE COMMISSION MIGHT PROTECT MANUFACTURERS

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The new federal trade commission might protect manufacturers who begin the manufacture of dyestuffs in the opinion of Secretary Lane who called today at the white house.

"If after the war any foreign concerns should start cutting rates to drive American plants out of business I see no reason why the trade commission should not step in," he said. "It seems to me that Americans should go ahead and try to manufacture the needed dyestuffs to meet the demand of the textile manufacturers."

NEW LUTHERAN CHURCH WILL BE BUILT WEST OF MEREDOSA

Contract Will be let for Erection of St. John's Lutheran Edifice—Rev. P. A. Soerensen has Built Two Other Churches on Circuit.

The contract is expected to be let this week for the erection of a Lutheran church six miles east of Mercedosa. The building committee is composed of J. W. Duvaudek, George Rousch and Charles Schleicher. The building will be 28 by 40 feet, built of wood at a cost between $2,000 and $4,000.

There are twenty-five families in that community and the pastor is Rev. P. A. Soerensen. He is a graduate of a school in Springfield and is a progressive minister of the gospel. He has two other charges, Bluffs and Mercedosa and during his five years ministry in these places he has built two churches and this one now about to be constructed will be his third.

The ground for the new church and also land for a cemetery, three or four acres in all was contributed by August Meier.

ACQUIT FRENCH OFFICER ON CHARGE OF KILLING HIS WIFE

PARIS, April 10.—Captain Jean Herail, an officer in the French cavalry was acquitted today by a court martial which tried him for killing his wife at Compiègne last November, because she persisted in following the army in order to be near him. Previous to the shooting orders had been issued by the military authorities prohibiting officers and soldiers from receiving their wives during the campaign. It was brought out today that Captain Herail became mentally unbalanced through worry over the probable results of his wife's refusal to obey this law.

MISS MARGARET CATLIN ANSWERS FINAL SUMMONS

Life of Rare Usefulness and Beauty
Closes at Home of Niece in Ohio
—Funeral Here Probably Monday.

Miss Margaret E. Catlin passed away at a hospital in Youngstown, Ohio, Saturday at two p. m., and thus, on earth to be continued in heaven, closed a life of rare usefulness and beauty.

Miss Catlin was born in Connecticut, in September, 1836 and at the age of four came to this city with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wyllis Catlin and it has ever been her home. Her father was one of the early bookkeepers of Jacksonville and was a man of the strictest integrity and honor. He dropped dead in his garden many years ago and that after his wife had preceded him to the better land. For a time he was in business in the place now occupied by A. Wehl; then he went to a room in the Strawn building and finally to the place now occupied by the Illinois Stock Exchange. For a time he had associated with him Henry Thayer, son of the then principal of the Female Academy, and later his nephew, Charles Catlin of the east, and the firm was known as W. Catlin & Co.

Seldom has it been the lot of any person to leave such a fragrant memory as that left by Miss Catlin. While she did much that was known by the public she did much more than was known only to herself, the recipient and her Maker. She was identified with the Ladies' Education society, an organization whose especial work was assisting worthy young women to secure an education, and it has done an immense amount of good.

In the woman's christian association she was ever a power of good and the leading spirit and hundreds will greet her on the shining shores of eternity with glad welcome for the good she did them while on earth. For years she conducted a sewing school where children not blessed with the good things of life might come and learn useful arts and at the same time have their minds and souls cultivated and improved also. She was an active worker in the associated charities while in church and Sunday school she was always at the front when health and opportunity permitted.

She loved especially to seek out the neglected ones and help them to happiness and improvement, mentally, physically and spiritually and her gentle ministrations have been a blessing to untold numbers for in all she did she was wholly unostentatious.

The pleasant home on West State street so long occupied by the family, was always open to those who need the blessings she was able to bestow and it will be gratefully remembered by many who have enjoyed happy hours under its hospitable roof. There have been prepared perhaps thousands of garments and various gifts for the poor and there have gathered many worthy persons to work under her direction. It is indeed impossible to do anything like justice to the memory of one so useful and universally beloved but it is a pleasure for one who knew her well for fifty years to offer something regarding her beautiful life.

She was fortunate in having a brother, Charles H. Catlin, who loved her dearly and a niece, Miss Lucy Catlin, who was tenderly devoted to her always. As long as she could work she made this her home but when age and infirmities rendered her unable to do more she went to Youngstown, O., some time since, to be with her niece, a teacher there; all that love could suggest was done to make her last days comfortable.

The remains were expected here this morning on the Wabash and the funeral will probably be conducted Monday at the family residence by her pastor, Rev. R. O. Post, D. D.

Henry Richards of 807 Allen avenue died Saturday of dropsy. He was about seventy years of age and leaves surviving him a widow, Mary F. Richards, and one brother, who resides in Springfield. He was born in Ralls county, Mo., and has been a resident here for about forty years. The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Second Christian church in charge of Rev. E. M. Harlis. Interment will be made in East cemetery. Anyone desiring to view the remains can do so by calling at the Reynolds Undertaking establishment Monday before one o'clock.

DePue.

A telegram to Gates Strawn has brought information of the sudden death of Major Hanson DePue of Washington, D. C. He was the father of Miss Helen DePue and Mrs. Glass who as guests at Mr. Strawn's home here last spring and formed many pleasant friendships. Major DePue had for a long time been connected with the government census department.

Gordon.

Miss Frances Lillian Gordon died Saturday morning at seven o'clock at Dr. J. A. Day's hospital after an illness of five or six weeks. She was taken ill while teaching in the Concord school about March first. She went to the home of Mr. Felix Gordon, her brother, in Murrayville. She did not seem to improve in health there as she should and last Wednesday was removed to the hospital in this city.

Miss Gordon had for a number of years been a teacher in the schools of the county. She was a devout and consistent member of the Lynnville Christian church with which she united early in life. Her place in the educational and religious circles where she was so well known will be hard to fill. She will be missed by those with whom she worked and by her many friends who saw her less often.

Miss Gordon was born at Lynnville Jan. 19, 1872, the daughter of James B. and Charlotte Gibbs Gordon. Her father died in 1899. She continued to reside in the Lynnville neighborhood until two years ago when she came to Jacksonville with her mother and lived there until after the death of her mother which occurred at their home, 310 West College avenue, Oct. 24, 1914.

The deceased is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Earl May of Danville, Mrs. George T. Cass of Danville, Mrs. Virginia Gordon (Bell) of Chicago, Mrs. L. R. Day of Winchester, Felix Gordon of Murrayville, Carl O. Gordon of Spokane, Wash., and Freding Gordon of this city.

The body was taken to the Gillham undertaking parlors where it will remain until time for the funeral tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The funeral service will be held at the Central Christian church in charge of the Rev. Myron L. Pontius, pastor of the church. Interment will be made in Diamond Grove cemetery.

WITH THE SICK.

W. L. Leach who has been at Oak Lawn for treatment for rheumatism has been greatly helped and has returned home.

F. J. Andrews and son LeFont are both at the Sanatorium and are improving.

Mrs. D. W. Edwards, 344 East State street, who has been ill at Passavant hospital, was last night in critical condition. She ran a splinter into her foot a few days since and tetanus, or lockjaw, set in.

Mrs. Frank Harden has returned to her home on East street after an illness of several weeks at Our Savior's hospital.

Welday Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Johnson, east of the city is a patient at Passavant hospital.

Food and Water Problems both Solved by the Automatic Refrigerator

No refrigerator on earth keeps food fresher and finer tasting than the Automatic. As a plain food-keeping machine it deserves the consideration of every careful housewife.

In addition to this—you get in the Automatic the famous "built-in" water cooler—in a class by itself—which provides an abundance of safe, cold drinking water, perfectly protected against dust, impurities and food odors.

You will be interested in seeing the Automatic, even if you aren't ready to buy.

Automatic prices are not high. We sell Refrigerators just as we sell housefurnishings ---a little less than the other store.

Ride in safety over slippery pavements

You men who are often compelled to "let her out" can indulge in bursts of speed with less fear of skidding and slewing.

The long, sturdy studs (six rows of them) in the Stagard Tread give your car a good "purchase" on slippery pavements and make skidding an almost negligible factor.

There's double mileage in the Original, Effective Non-skid Tire, too. The studs form an extra tread over the ordinary, plain tread so that you really have two wearing surfaces.

PROPERTY LINE DISPUTE

Case of F. S. Baldwin vs. Austin Carter, Sr., Argued Before Squire Coons.

The case of F. S. Baldwin vs. Austin Carter, Sr., occupied the attention of Squire J. M. Coons' court Saturday afternoon. The plaintiff in the suit charged trespass and asked damages in the sum of $25.

It seems that the boundary fence which divides the two properties on Superior avenue has for many years been either down altogether or in a bad state of repair. Mr. Baldwin avers that he has often asked Mr. Carter to help keep the fence up and pay half in putting in a new fence, while Mr. Carter emphatically states that Mr. Baldwin has not mentioned fence to him in the last five years.

However, it seems that a short time ago Mr. Carter decided that the fence should be rebuilt and started to do the work. He and his son, Austin, Jr., were at work setting the posts on their half of the fence when Arthur Baldwin, son of F. S. Baldwin, came and helped in setting the line, it is said. Later, however, the posts which the Baldwin had set, six in number, were removed by the Carters and thrown upon the Baldwin lawn. The Carters then set their own posts, old ties, they claim, in the same post holes which the Baldwins had dug. After the posts were all in there seemed to be some bad feeling in the matter and accordingly the wire was not stretched.

Mr. Baldwin did not think that the new fence was on the proper line and so had Mr. E. M. Henderson, county surveyor, survey his lot. This survey showed that the fence was over on Mr. Baldwin's property three feet on the south and six inches on the north end of the lot.

Mr. Baldwin believes that Carter should pay for half the cost of surveying and also half the cost of fencing and that the fence should be placed as the survey showed the line. Carter claims that the old fence or the posts between the lots had established the old line for more than twenty years, and that according to the law, this should be considered the proper line of boundary.

Squire Coons said that he was not certain that the case came within the jurisdiction of a justice court, but he wanted to see the case settled if possible without further dispute. He declined to ask Carter to pay for a half of the cost of the surveying, but said that if Carter would agree to placing the fence where the survey showed it belonged and would assist in maintaining and keeping up his half of the fence that he would let him off with the costs of the case. This Carter did not seem willing to do and said that he would appeal the case rather than move the fence from where it was at present. Squire Coons then assessed the defendant with the costs and awarded damages to the plaintiff in the sum of $10 and ordered that the fence be moved back to the line made by the surveyor.

Carter has twenty days in which to file an appeal. He was given five days in which to move his half of the fence, however, so it is likely that the fence will be moved. It may be that the case will be settled without an appeal.

ILLINOIS NEWS NOTES.

Will Reorganize Pirates—The directors of the Petersburg ball club have had several informal meetings lately looking to the re-organization of the Petersburg Pirates for the season of 1915. The directors are determined to have a winning club or none at all with only clean ball to be played. In this they are right, and in this all good citizens should uphold them.

Flames at Pleasant Plains—When in the midst of the Easter services last Sunday morning the Presbyterians of Pleasant Plains were forced to flee from the building to save their lives. Several were hurt in the panic that followed the announcement, but no serious accidents are recorded.

Mrs. Mollie Jones was the first to discover the fire. She communicated the fact to the preacher, Rev. W. E. Schaffer, who at once stopped his sermon in the middle of a sentence and dismissed the congregation.

The men in their best Easter suits joined the fire department in fighting the flames. The parsonage of the Christian church was fired by flying embers several times, but was as quickly extinguished.

The church was an old frame building, though the interior was quite attractive. The loss is about $4,000 with no insurance. Much of the furniture was saved.

The cause of the fire is unknown.

Changes "Road Day" Date—A proclamation was issued by Governor Dunne Friday, changing date for the Illinois Road Day from April 20th to Thursday, April 22nd. The governor found after he had set April 20th as road day that it fell on the same date as many of the municipal elections in down state.

Havana Business Men Organize—The Havana Business and Professional Men's Association was officially organized at the city hall on Wednesday evening by the selection of officers and the adoption of a constitution and by-laws. The objects of the new association are to promote interests of the retail dealers and professional men of the city, and to establish and operate a credit rating system.

Former Havana Boy Weds—Earl H. Loux, a former resident of Havana, Illinois, now a soldier in the United States army, stationed at Fort George Wright, Spokane, and Pearl Nelson, of Spokane, Washington, were married on March 27, 1915.

Early Saturday morning the young couple took a trip to Lincoln county in an auto which is fifty miles from Spokane and returned home in time for the wedding supper which was served at the home of the bride. After the wedding supper the American flag was raised to show their respect for their country. The flag will remain raised until such a time when one of the couple shall pass away.

On August 21 the groom will finish his term of service with the United States army at which time the bride and groom will take a trip to Havana, Illinois, in the expectations of making their home in Havana.

WAS GUEST OF HONOR.

James J. Callahan, former manager of the White Sox, was the guest of honor at a banquet at Joliet recently that was attended by a large number of prominent citizens, and among the speakers was R. A. P. Holderby, so well known in this city where he formerly coached the teams at the School for the Deaf and Illinois College. Mr. Holderby is now athletic director at the Illinois Steel Works, and occupies a prominent place among the athletic enthusiasts of the penitentiary city. Athletics in all lines are booming there and are evidently in good hands.

JOLIET PRISONERS SEND THANKS TO THE REV. CHARLES M. BROWN

From the Continent: The thirty prisoners of the state of Illinois who were permitted to leave the penitentiary at Joliet for a few hours on a recent Sunday through the efforts of C. M. Brown, D. D., pastor of Central Presbyterian church of that city, were so grateful for their short liberty that they sent Dr. Brown a very appreciative note. Among other things they said: "Your life has afforded you many ways of bringing happiness and help to those about you, but we know that you can never equal with any deed the blessing and hope you brought so many deserving men on this occasion." Dr. Brown frequently visits the penitentiary and knows a number of inmates. Before the opening of union evangelistic meetings in Joliet, conducted by Dr. R. E. Jarvis, he asked the warden if it would be possible for the prison band to furnish music on the first night. The warden referred him to the governor who at once told Dr. Brown that the warden could permit the prison band of honor men to visit the tabernacle. Some of the men have been sentenced for life and two of them had not been outside prison walls for twelve years. As a matter of fact the unusual strain of anticipation for their short liberty and the excitement of the march through the crowded city and presence of the auditorium was too great for two of the men, who were reported sick the day after their appearance. The effect of the evangelistic meetings upon the prisoners was almost as great as the music upon the audience. All but three or four of the members of the band confessed Christ. The men left the prison unaccompanied by guards and returned to their cells at once after the meeting.

Rev. Mr. Brown is a former pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, this city. He was succeeded in the local pastorate by the Rev. Leonidas H. Davis.

EARLY STRAWBERRIES

The first of the season these strawberries are; they've come, with-out freezin', from regions afar. They cost like blue blazes, like toad-stools they smell, and each berry raises the H. C. of L. They're sickly and pallid, their bloom is a fake, too sour for a salad, too green for a cake. I swallow them slowly, they shrivel my gums, their taste is unholy, they're worse than green plums. But when they are swallowed, I fix up a tale; with falsehoods unhalloved my friends I regale. "I'd berries for dinner! They cost seven wads, but they were a winner, a feast for the gods!" My friends crowd up closer to hear my glad cry, then go to the grocer some berries to buy, those berries so bitter, and hard as a wedge, that poison a critter, and set teeth on edge. And, having consumed them in sorrow and woe, and having entombed them, they buoyantly go, and tell of the splendor of berries and cream, so luscious, so tender, an epicure's dream! Thus truth is all beggled and shorn of its bloom, thus men are hornswoggled and led to their doom!

All Germs Ordered To Beat It!—Gilt!

Searching Influence of a Remedy That Works Wonders.

The introduction of S. S. S. is at once a command to blood impurities to find a way out.

And what are blood impurities? They may be the hypersecretions found in the mucous linings of the body; they may be acid accumulations known as rheumatism; they may be boils, pimples, eczema, acne and stubborn, indolent sores. But examined closely, they are all germs that have gotten the upper hand and it requires the flushing influence of S. S. S. to drive them out. And out they go when S. S. S. begins to circulate in the blood. It only requires five minutes to begin this influence, for it is a fact that in this limited time S. S. S. may be traced in the urine, in the perspiration, in the effluence from the lungs to show that it is at work. Germs, mind you, are of various kinds, but all are foreign to health and S. S. S. is no respecter of destructive germs, it drives them all out, of whatsoever name they go by. Just get a bottle of S. S. S. of any druggist and soon you will observe a decided change. And if yours is a stubborn case, write to the Medical Adviser, care of The Swift Specific Co., 107 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. CHIFEDS POUND PLANK IN EIGHTH AND WIN

PITCHER HENDRIX OPENS BATTING RALLY.

Up to the Eighth Plank's Cross-fire Baffled St. Louis—Newark Wins from Baltimore—Knocks Quinn Out of Box.

Chicago, April 10.—Edna Plank, making his debut as a Federal League pitcher, was the victim of an eighth inning batting rally which gave Chicago a cluster of three runs and a three to one victory over St. Louis in the opening game of the season today. Up to the eighth his cross fire baffled the locals, not one of whom reached third base and his own double and Tobin's triple gave the visitors a one run lead in the fifth.

Pitcher Hendrix opened the eighth with a two bagger and Plank fielded Hanford's hit too late to catch Hendrix at third.

Mann singled, scoring Hendrix and after Zwilling, who twice previously had doubled, struck out, a hit by Wilson and a squeeze play by Zeider counted Hanford and Mann.

Mayor-elect William Hale Thompson threw the first ball.

TEARNEY STATES THERE WILL BE EIGHT CLUBS IN THREE-EYE

DECATUR, Ill., April 10.—According to an announcement of President Tearney of the Three Eye League today, there will be eight clubs in the circuit this season. He will announce the name of the city to get the eighth berth this week. According to the Rockford Baseball association, that city will be given the Springfield franchise as it is asserted Secretary Farrell of the National association has reversed his former decision in holding that Rockford territory is the property of the Bi-State League, and that the territory is neither the property of the old Wisconsin-Illinois or the Bi-State League. The Rockford association is raising a fund of $2,000 to start the season and is also getting the baseball park in shape for training season.

HEADACHE, COSTIVE, BILIOUS—"CASCARETS"

Tonight! Clean Your Bowels and End Headaches, Colds, Sour Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, indigestible food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.—Advertisement.

BROOKLYN WINS RAGGED GAME FROM BUFFALO

CONTEST LASTS MORE THAN THREE HOURS.

Seaton's Slow Work and Many Changes in Line-up Responsible for Long Fight—May be Thrown Out.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 10.—Brooklyn defeated Buffalo in a ragged game before a big crowd at the opening of the Federal League season here today. The contest lasted more than three hours. Seaton's slow work and many changes in line-up being chiefly responsible. It is considered probable that the game will be thrown out as Grover Land of the Brooklyn, after batting for Upham, was taken out to let Howard run for him, after which Land donned the mask and finished the game behind the bat. Manager Lee Magee, who was put out of the game in the first inning for protesting a decision, explained that Watson was to have relieved Simon but as the former had a sore finger it was found necessary to put Land behind the bat.

The score:
Club: R. H. E.
Buffalo 1 100 314 000—9 10 4
Brooklyn 015 020 23x—13 14 5

Batteries—Bedient, Schultz, Ford and Blair; Seaton, Upham, LaFitte and Simon, Land.

Pittsburgh 8; Kansas City 0.
Kansas City, Mo., April 10.—Allen, pitching for Pittsburgh, kept his hits well scattered, tightening in the pinches and the Kansas City Federals lost the first game of the season today. Main, who started on the mound for the locals, held the visitors scoreless in the first four innings. Konetchy hit a home run in the fifth, scoring Mowry and Berghammer ahead of him.

Spectacular ceremonies were indulged in for the season's opening. James A. Gilmore of Chicago, president of the Federal League and G. W. Gwinner, president of the Pittsburgh club, were given a noisy welcome by the largest crowd that ever attended a Federal game here.

The score:
Club: R. H. E.
Pittsburgh 1 000 050 111—8 9 0
Kansas City 000 000 000—0 7 5

Batteries—Allen and O'Connor; Main, Packard and Easterly.

EUROPEAN WAR NOTES

Paris, April 10.—(3 p. m.)—The French minister of marine in an official statement issued today gives notice that the interested parties must furnish evidence regarding claims applying to the seizure of the American cotton steamship Dacia within one month from date. Final disposal of the case consequently will not be reached before the second week in May.

Venice, via London, April 10.—(7:30 p. m.)—Telegraphic advices from Budapest state that notwithstanding their recent losses in the Carpathians the Russians are continuing their attacks with undiminished vigor. They are continually sending reinforcements to the front line. A heavy artillery engagement above Barfield is reported. About this battle the Russians attempted to storm the Austrian positions. The Russians are now exerting all their strength to force a passage through the Austrian lines in the western part of the Saros region, in order to make a flank attack on the Austrian position in the Malkowice Valley.

Budapest newspapers admit that the Russians are achieving some successes but declare that they are comparatively small and that by comparison with the enormous Russian losses they are unimportant.

Vienna, April 10.—via London. (8:20 p. m.)—The Austrian war department today gave out the following official statement:

"In the wooded mountains to the east of Uzsok Pass severe fighting opened yesterday. German troops captured a height to the north of Tscholka, which since April 5th, has been hotly contested and stubbornly defended by the Russians. One colonel and more than 1,000 men were captured and fifteen machine guns were taken.

"Strong attacks against the German and our positions in Ogor Valley in the district of Stry, failed with severe Russian losses.

"Yesterday we captured 2,150 prisoners. On the remainder of the front there were no changes."

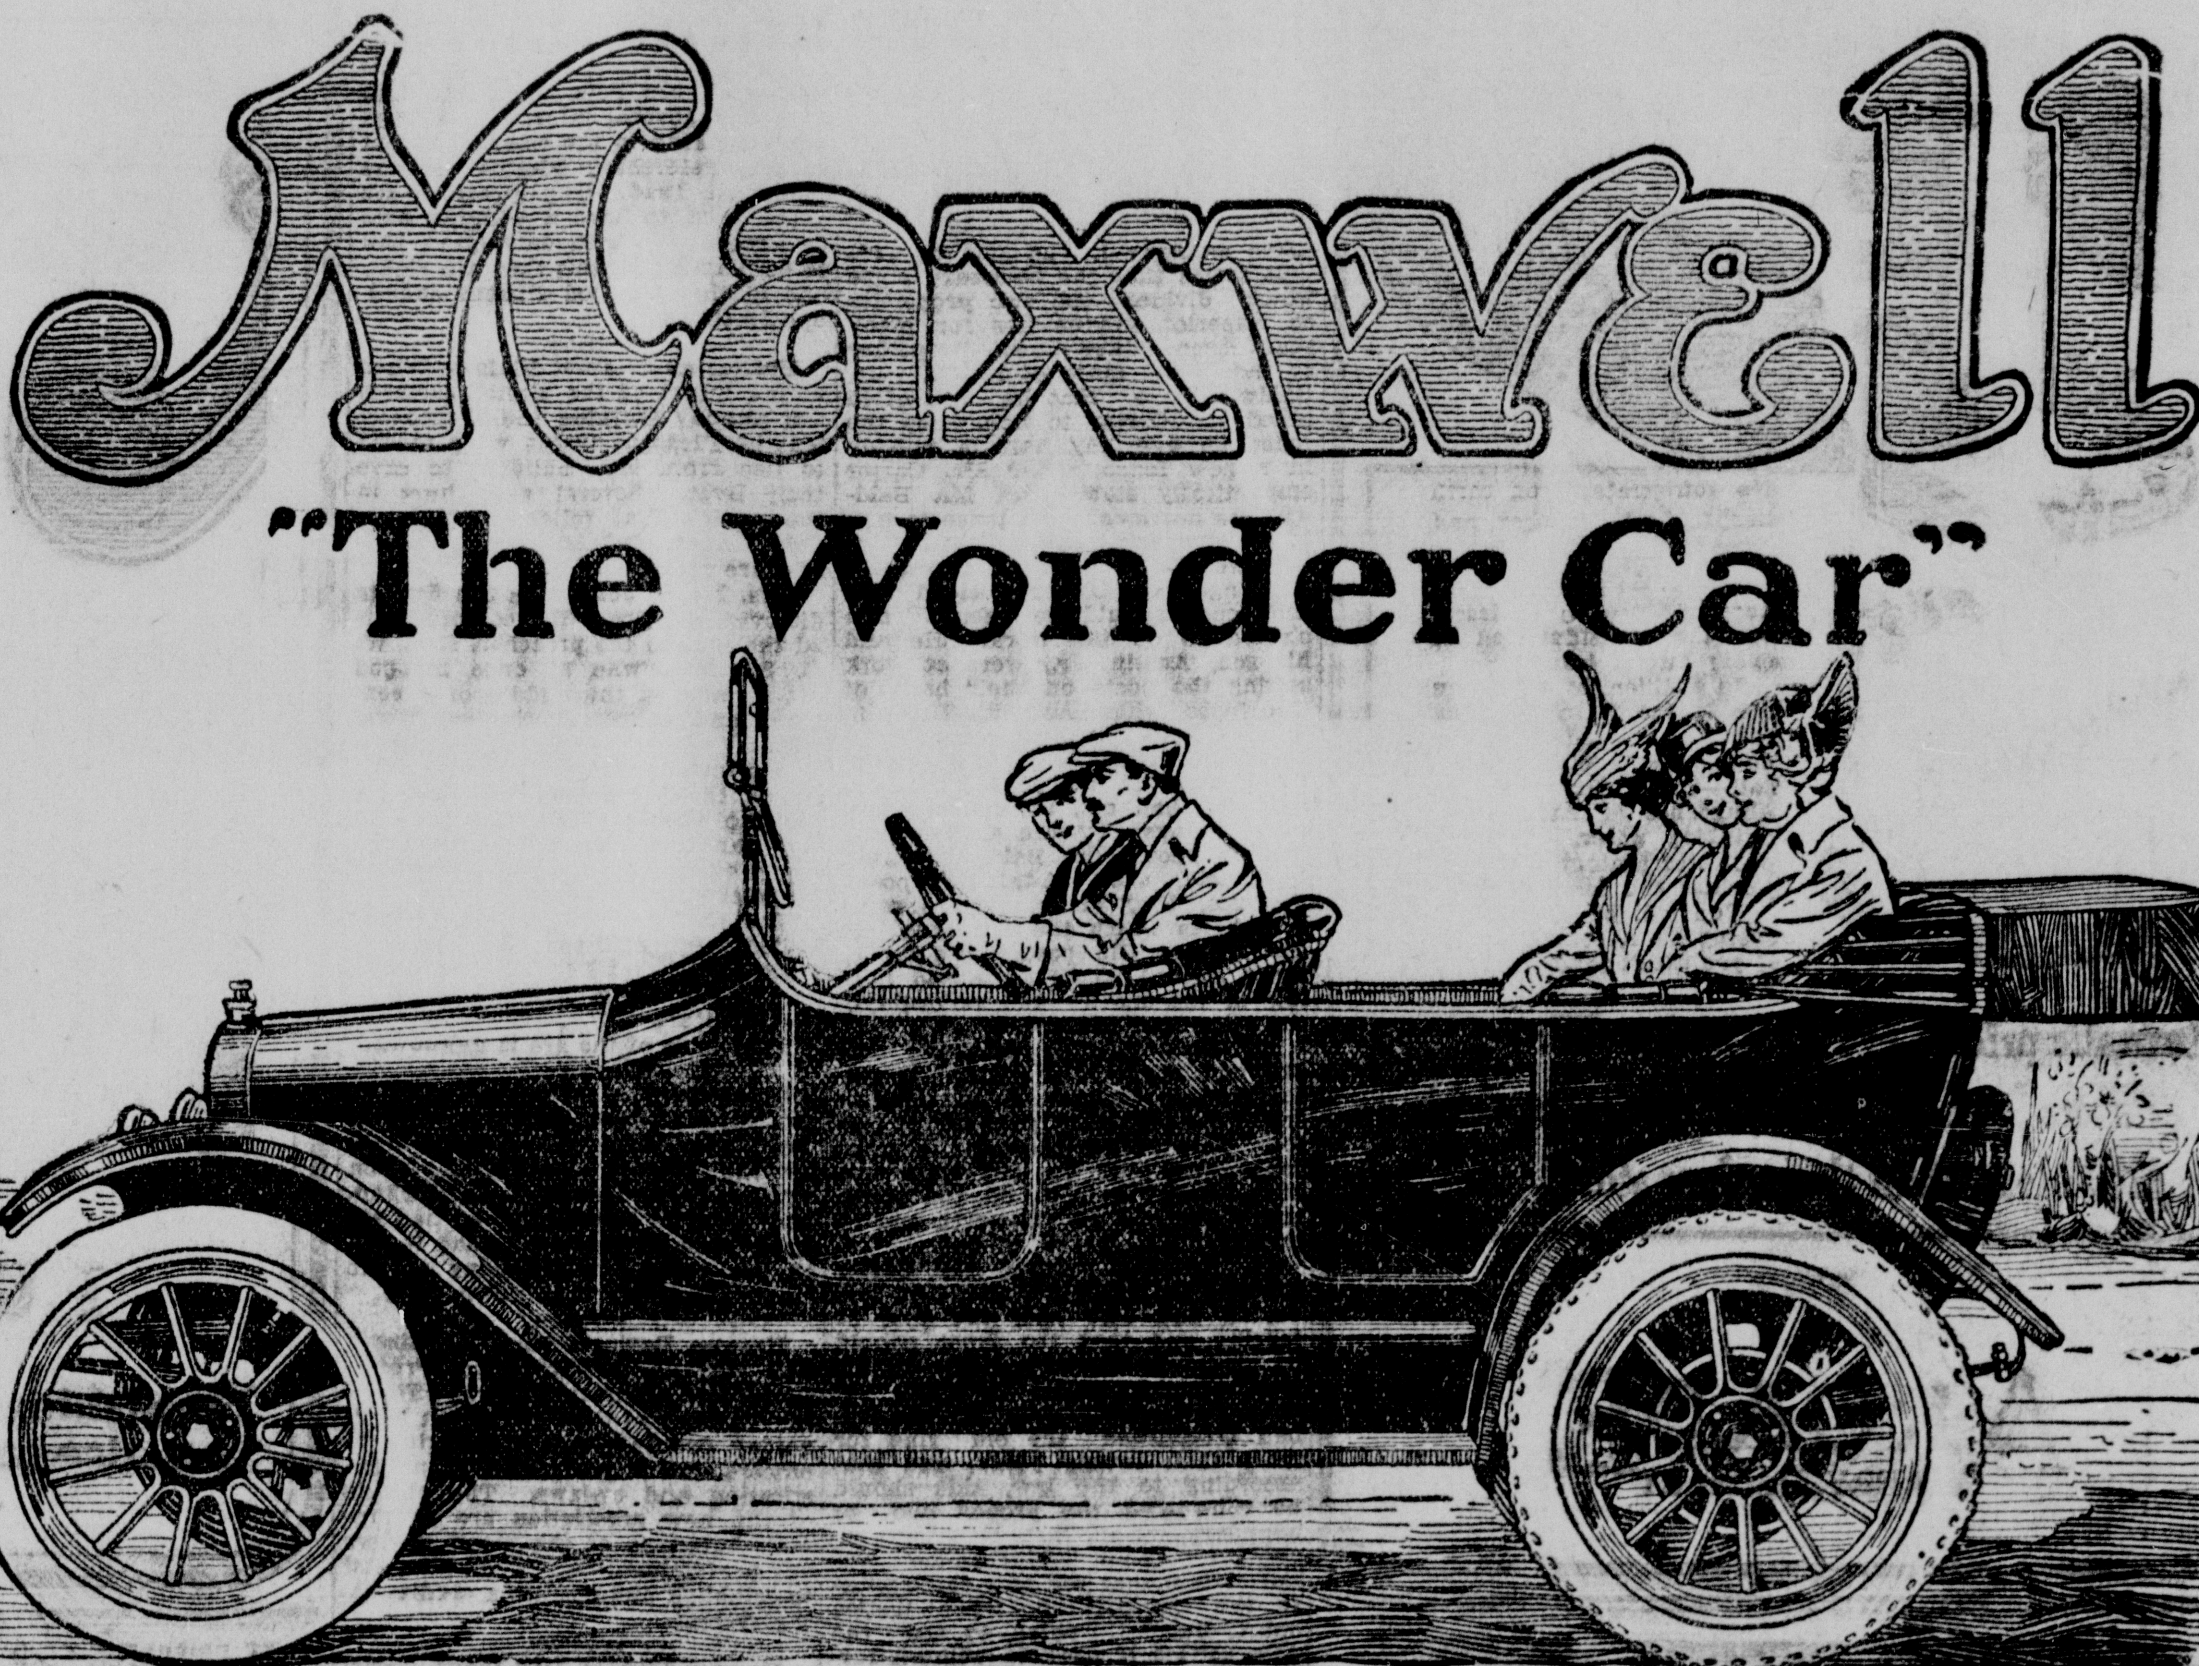

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

You will have only yourself to blame if you are "talked into" buying an "unsuitable" or a "theoretical" Car.

The two commonest mistakes made in buying an automobile are—First, Buying a car not suited to your needs.—Second, Buying a car that has not passed the theory stage.

The first mistake—buying an "unsuitable" car—is perhaps made even less often than the second. But for your own sake study your needs sensibly, just as you study your household needs, and buy a car you can afford to enjoy—a car you will have pride in, and yet one that will not be a "ghost of reproach" to your good sense.

The second mistake—buying a "theoretical" car—is perhaps the sadder mistake of the two—because when you have made this mistake, you have on your hands some engineer's or designer's untried theory, instead of a tried, known, successful car. And you have paid a price that, put in the right car, would never have been a reproach—but would have bought an automobile of real pride and joy.

It is because we see these two mistakes being constantly made—because we see sensible people being constantly talked into these "automobile fiascos" that we boast so much about the record of the car we sell—The Maxwell.

38,000 happy satisfied Maxwell owners are driving 38,000 handsome streamline Maxwell Cars to-day—at an up-keep cost that any man of any standing can afford, and at an original cost that is simply a practical investment.

200 Maxwell Cars Every Day

Twelve hundred a week, five thousand a month. That is the actual output of "The Wonder Car" right now and constantly increasing.

Not bare promises that cannot be kept, but actual deliveries to Maxwell Dealers.

Stop! Think a moment. There must be something back of a production so great. There must be the hearty approval and confidence of the public in the car they buy and the car must merit it all.

26 Maxwell cars every hour of the business day. Yes, that is just what the public are buying, and when you order a Maxwell, you get one the day you want it.

Back of each Maxwell stands one of the greatest and most efficient organizations in the industry, and one strong enough financially to insure you against the purchase of an "orphan car" and to give you actual deliveries of a wonderful car on the day you want it.

The Maxwell Company's Guarantee of Service to Maxwell Owners

No other automobile is backed by a more reliable service than that guaranteed every Maxwell owner. More than 2,000 Maxwell dealers—in every part of this country—are always ready to give expert advice, to make adjustments, and to supply new parts at reasonable prices.

This splendid Maxwell dealer service organization is perfected and completed by the chain of Maxwell owned and Maxwell operated Service Branches. Sixteen great Maxwell Service Stations are so located throughout the country that a Maxwell dealer can supply any part for an owner within a few hours if not in his stock. Maxwell Service is one of the great advantages enjoyed by Maxwell owners.

Order a Maxwell from us now, and when you want it delivered, we will give you your car—not an excuse on delivery day

"Our National Pastime"

By Horace H. Bancroft

I. Beginnings of Baseball

A writer in Harper's Weekly has described our national pastime, the game of baseball, as a business, a compelling sport and a tremendous gamble. As a business, it necessitates enormous capital, as a sport, it holds the attention of millions through the greater part of twelve months of the year; as a gamble, a man may lose a $100,000 in five or six months. It is a game in which the man who starts with a hundred or two hundred thousand is called a "piker." Financial returns are said to be smaller in baseball in proportion to the outlay than in any other business of similar magnitude.

In the two major leagues, the National and American, twelve cities are represented with a total of 16 playing fields, representing an outlay of $10,000,000. These ball parks are vastly different from a theatre because the gates are practically closed during five months of every year and upon each diamond but seventy-seven scheduled games are played.

An American league owner has figured out the money actually necessary for annual expenditure in the maintenance of a major league team, and the account is itemized as follows:

Players salary, $80,000.
Traveling expenses, $15,000.
Southern training trip, 40 players, $10,000.
Cost of purchased players $25,000.

Salaries, office help, secretary, business manager, assistant, stenographer, ticket sellers, ground keepers etc., $10,000.

Advertising, $2,500.
Telephone tolls, $1,000.
Total, $155,000.

A team maintained on this basis, in order to be profitable, must play daily before a crowd of 5,000 people.

High Prices Paid for Players.

The average player drafted from a minor league costs the major league from $2,500 to $4,000. Some enormous prices have been paid for players of great promise who have evidenced unusual skill in the minors, the headlines in this respect being Marty O'Toole, for whom, according to the newspapers, Pittsburgh paid $22,000. New York paid $11,000 for the famous Babe Marquard; Russel Blackburne cost Chicago $11,000 and the White Sox a year or more ago are reported to have paid $18,000 for Larry Chappelle, who was at one time a member of the Jacksonville team in the short lived Northern league. Players with the ability of Ty Cobb, of the Detroit Tigers, sometimes referred to as the Georgia Peach and Walter Johnson of the Washington Americans are paid for a season's work in the neighborhood of $15,000.

The first recorded game of baseball to which an admission fee was charged was played July 20, 1858, in New York when 1,500 people paid $750 to see New York defeat Brooklyn by a margin of 4 runs. A little over a quarter of a century later, or to be exact, October 16, 1912, another New York team playing Boston, lost by a single run the last game of a world series. In the eight games played in this series, there was an attendance of 250,000 people and the admission fees aggregated over $450,833.00. Each club's share was $147,571.00. The National Commission share was $19,083.00. The players share was $147,088. Each Boston player received $1,022 as a result of his participation in the eight days' contest and each New York player received $2,560.00. These are record figures and have not been equalled since 1912, and possible will not be in years to come from the fact that few of the world's series have been as long drawn out.

Facts are stubborn things and figures of the magnitude I have quoted are sufficient to challenge the interest of anyone, irrespective of any enthusiasm the may have for the pastime itself. Is it any wonder that the game of baseball has been called our national pastime and is it not rightly denominated?

It is a game that interests the small boy on the corner lot, that lures the youth in high school and colleges and that fascinates the man long after his playing days have given way to more serious things. This game at whose shrine millions gather every year, came into being rather suddenly, and was named from the bases used in playing it. It has long been established as the most popular branch of athletics in the United States, and its origin, while somewhat obscure was due doubtless to the old English game of rounders, the American game of town ball, which was the offspring of rounders, and several radical variations of the latter as "Three Cat, Four Old Cat, and Scrub."

Origin of Game.

In 1907 a research was made to determine who actually laid the foundation for the present game and to determine these facts, a commission was appointed by those interested in the professional end of the game. This commission consisted of A. G. Mills of New York, Arthur P. Gorman, United States senator from Maryland, Morgan G. Buckley, governor and United States senator from Connecticut, N. E. Young, George Wright and Jas. E. Sullivan. This body after several months' work in collecting evidence reported their finding, namely, that the national game of baseball originated with a Knickerbocker club organized in New York city in 1845, and that the first person to prepare a diamond diagram was Abner Doubleday of Cooperstown

N. Y., in 1839. The Knickerbocker club was in existence for thirty years. Its first rival, the New York nine, organized in 1846, issued a challenge to the Knickerbockers and the game was played in Hoboken in June 19, 1846, the challengers winning by a score of 23 to 1. Victory was decided when either side scored 21 runs, and the contests required by 4 innings. The batter was out if the ball was caught on the first bounce. The pitcher delivered the ball with a straight arm motion. He was a pitcher and not a thrower as in the more modern game. In 1858 there were 25 organized teams in the United States.

The first professional club to be organized was the Cincinnati Red Stockings, formed in 1869. This team traveled during that year 12,000 miles and played to over 200,000 people, indicating at this early day, the popularity to which the sport was destined to attain.

National League Organized.

In 1871 there was organized the National Association of Professional Baseball players with 10 clubs, and a schedule arranged for a series of contests. Only eight of these clubs finished the season. They were the Athletics of Philadelphia, The Boston, the White Stockings of Chicago, the Haymakers of Troy, the Nationals of New York, the Forest City of Cleveland, the Nationals of Washington, and the Forest City of Rockford.

It has always been a custom to nickname the various teams, and in Jacksonville we have had the Hardins, the Hercules, the Stars, the Alerts, the Blues, the Browns, the Widewings, the Kittens and the Lunatics.

Gambling and the throwing of games by the players disrupted the sport in the early 70's and the better element withdrew their support. By 1875, practically every professional team was bankrupt. At this crisis W. A. Hulbert and A. G. Spaulding, the famous sporting goods man, determined to reorganize the game along business lines. Their efforts were successful and the movement started by them resulted in the forming of the National League of Professional Baseball Clubs. The game today is conducted under the constitution then adopted with a few modifications. Morgan G. Buckley, afterwards the United States senator from Connecticut, became the first president of the league, and the pennant was won by Chicago.

The national league has been followed by scores of others, among the number being the American League, International, American Association, Federal, Southern League, Eastern Association, Pacific Coast League, New England and many others. The American League was formed in 1900 as a rival to the National League, but the two soon came to a working agreement, and the game has practically been in the hands of these two organizations since 1900 until two years ago when Gilmore became president of an organization known as the Federal League. Since that time, there has been a great deal of disruption among magnates and players and the jumping of contracts and agreements has been frequent causing crimination and recrimination on the part of those prominent in the sport. These troubles soon became of sufficient magnitude to require resort to the courts and litigation has been frequent and exceedingly costly to those who have investments in the various clubs and the end is not yet. The Federal League has been in existence for a year and weathered the season of 1914. Its future problems and its existence and its ultimate effect upon the two older organizations is a matter of much speculation.

Baseball was introduced in Great Britain in 1874 and in 1888-89 New Zealand, Australia, Egypt, Italy and France were visited by American teams. Later a visit was made to Japan and the pastime now has a very strong foothold in the land of the Mikado.

First Collegiate Match.

The first college match of which any record exists was played July 1, 1859, between Amherst and Williams and resulted in a score of 66 to 32 in favor of Amherst. It was agreed before the game to play until one team had made 65 runs.

The game of baseball is fast and furious and as played in these modern days, abounds in intricacies that require superb leadership and experts in the execution of the plays.

When A. G. Spaulding was the leading pitcher of the country in the 70's, he did all the pitching for Boston for four years. The pitcher of today works about every fourth day and pitches possibly thirty or thirty-five games during his season.

First Curve Pitching.

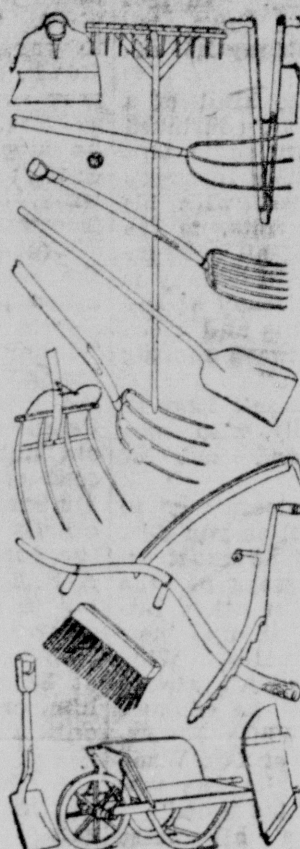

Curve pitching was first used by Arthur Cummings in 1867; overhand pitching was authorized in 1884; batsmen were not permitted to call for high or low balls in 1887. The first no-hit and no player to reach first base game was pitched by James Galvin of the St. Louis Reds in 1876. John M. Ward squallied this record in 1880 and Cy Young repeated the performance in 1904 and Addie Joss in 1908. In this connection, it may be of interest to mention the fact that by Cy Young who only recently became a "has been", is the only pitcher who ever participated in five hundred major league games.

Harry Wright and Henry Chadwick, Harry and George Wright are names to conjure with in the early days of baseball. Harry Wright originated the system of scoring and the form of the scoring sheet which is still in use. He played on the old Boston, Cincinnati and Philadelphia teams, playing the positions of pitcher and center fielder. He died in the east about 12 years ago. Without the mention of the name of Henry Chadwick of Brooklyn, N. Y., any history of the game of baseball would be incomplete. This grand old man of the game was known as the "Father of Baseball". He was the first person to make the baseball code or book of playing rules. For nearly thirty years he supervised the annual edition of the Spaulding Guide. He died in 1908 at the age of 84 years.

A COPIOUS RAIN.

The rain which fell Friday night and Saturday morning was the most acceptable thing the weather has done for the country for a long time. A C. & A. conductor said it extended from Kansas City to Bloomington and fell in such a way that it did the most good. In this immediate vicinity it came down almost continuously for twelve hours and hardly any ran off.

Andersons Have Just Disposed of Their 1914 Apple Crop.

H. L. and Leslie Anderson, of Summer Hill, have finished marketing their 1914 record breaking apple crop. They had 2,850 barrels of fancy apples in cold storage at Hannibal. In the last two weeks they have succeeded in marketing this fruit at an average net return of $2 a barrel. Ganos sold for $2.50 a barrel, Ben Davis for $2.50 and Commerce for $2.75. The Commerce were sold in the south. Storage amounted to 40 cents a barrel, freight 16 cents and commission 10 cents. The net proceeds from these 2,850 barrels just about represents the net profits to the Andersons from their 35 acre apple orchard last year. Leslie Anderson, who is in charge of the orchard, sold enough apples in the orchard and on track at Rockport last fall to more than pay expenses of maintaining the orchard, harvesting the crop, etc. Something like $5,700 net from 35 acres of apples in one year—who can beat it?

Andersons Spraying Now.

Mr. Anderson found a trace of scale on one tree in his orchard and he is spraying the entire orchard for San Jose scale. He has been forcing some twigs from various varieties of apples and finds that Gano and Ben Davis are going to be shy of bloom this year while Jonathans will bloom heavily.

First Cars of Peaches Ever Shipped From Pike.

Mr. Anderson also last season marketed from a 5-acre peach orchard $1,000 worth of peaches at a total expense of $250; or $750 net from five acres. He shipped two refrigerator cars of peaches from Rockport, which were the first cars of peaches ever shipped from Pike county. At such a clip, Anderson can afford to miss a peach crop now and then, as he will do this year—the peach crop in this section being a total failure. He intends to set another peach orchard this spring. He has solved the problem of profitable peach growing, having ascertained the varieties that are most in demand and that ripen at a time when prices are apt to be best. For instance, he has found that the Pike county grown Elberta is larger and of better quality than the southern grown Elberta and he is able to put this peach into Chicago just before the big Michigan crop glut the market.

Sample of Scientific Farming.

Leslie Anderson's orchards are an example of what right methods will do. He handles his orchards scientifically, which is just another way of saying that he handles them as they ought to be handled. His orchards are the best kept of any in Pike county. Likewise and consequently, they are the most profitable orchards in Pike county. More than $6,000 net from 40 acres of apples and peaches; more than $150 an acre, net, from one year's crop—to use a slang expression, that's going some.—J. M. T. in Pike County Republican.

REMINISCENCE OF MISS DOROTHEA DIX

A good many years ago two boys residing in Arcadia, which was more of a place than it is today, were playing when they went into the road and tried to see who could throw the greater amount of dirt into the face of the other. As they were playing a gentleman, Joseph O. King of this city, drove along with Miss Dorothea Dix in the buggy with him.

He stopped and asked the boys if they could tell him of any 'insane, deaf and dumb or blind persons in that vicinity and being well acquainted they gave him the names of all they knew which were several as they were well acquainted in that vicinity.

Those boys were named Benjamin R. Upham and Felix G. Farrell, the former yet alive and here today and told the writer the story. Mr. Upham says Mr. King had been east to buy goods for the clothing store he was conducting and on a boat on the Ohio river as he was returning home he met Miss Dix, who was on her way to a distant mission of benevolence and urgently persuaded her to come to Jacksonville and see what she could do in the way of starting a charitable institution here and he promised her if she would come the people here would work out the details and relieve her of them if she would take the lead and show them how.

So earnestly did he press the suit of Jacksonville that the good lady yielded and came here and history tells us most of the rest of the story.

Among other names which deserve credit for the good work of getting the insane hospital started here is that of the late Dr. Samuel Adams, whose great ability was well known to every student under him but whose innate modesty kept him from coming to the front as his merits demanded. He was one of the silent and efficient workers but when it came to public recognition men of less ability possibly but more self assertion rushed ahead of him into public notice.

This city owes a great deal to the late Joseph O. King for what he did. He saved the gas works from destruction and was the absolute father of the city's gas works and in many

LAND O'NOD STORIES

BABY BUNNY'S SCHOOLING

"Gee whiz Tinker, but I wish I didn't have to go to school," said Billy Be Bo Bum as he joined the merry little elf in the White Forest one winter afternoon.

"Now what is the matter?" asked Tinker Teedle Tee, who was always so jolly and cheerful himself that he could not bear to see any one else unhappy. "Have you moved to Grumble Corner of Cross Patch Town since I last saw you?" "I'm not a crosspatch at all," replied Billy. "But sometimes I get so tired of school and study that I wish I was a rabbit so I would never have to open a book again."

"So you think Bunny has an easy time of it?" asked Tinker, spreading his wings and flying up on Billy's shoulder. "Well, just remember this Billy Boy, Mr. Rabbit has more enemies than any of the Little People who make their homes in the White Forest. How would you like it if every time you stepped out of your house to play or go to the store on an errand for your mother, some big, savage animal was waiting to pounce on you and tear you to pieces with its sharp claws and cruel teeth. And then when you were tucked in your bed for the night, all snug and comfy, how would you like to have to sleep with one eye and one ear open, so you would be ready, at a second's notice, to jump out of bed and run for your life to escape from some terrible foe?"

"Why I wouldn't like it at all," said Billy, shuddering at the very thought of such a thing. "In fact I would be so scared I don't believe I could run even if my life depended on it."

"Well that's just the kind of a life Mr. Rabbit leads," continued Tinker. "At every turn some bird or beast of prey is waiting to swoop down on him, and man, with his guns and dogs and ferrets, is the most terrible enemy of all. Every hour of the day or night Bunny is in danger and must be ready at any minute to match his wits and speed against the prowlers always seeking to make a meal of him."

"But after all, he doesn't have to go to school," said Billy, who was still rather grumpy and out of sorts.

Well, of course, he doesn't go to the same kind of school as you do," Tinker replied. "But he must always be learning the ways of the woods, the habits of the other Little People, and thinking up new tricks to fool his enemies. Why, Billy Boy, if Bunny wasn't always learning something new, he couldn't live a week in the White Forest, for Slinker the Weasel or Too Who the Owl would catch him the first time he hopped out of his hole."

"Who teaches him all these things," asked Billy, who had no idea Bunny had to study just the same as he did.

"Old Mrs. Mother Rabbit," Tinker replied. "She is the greatest teacher in the world. As soon as her children are born she starts to train them, and Bunny never grumbles at his teacher like some little boys I know."

"Almost the first lesson Bunny learns is to 'freeze' and he never forgets that lesson as long as he lives, for it is the best trick he knows to fool an enemy."

"Why under the sun does he want to freeze?" asked Billy. "I should think he would a great deal rather keep warm. Any way, I don't see how freezing would help him escape his enemies."

"Ho, ho, ho," laughed Tinker Teedle Tee. "That's the best joke I've heard in a long while. Why, Billy Boy, when Bunny freezes 't has nothing at all to do with being cold."

"Well, I always thought anything had to be very cold indeed before it would freeze," said Billy.

"When Bunny freezes he just stops whatever he is doing and sits as still as he can," replied Tinker. "Maybe he will be hopping along one of his runways, thinking of the delicious cabbages growing in Farmer Meadow's garden, when suddenly Busebody the Bluejay screams a warning that an enemy of the Little People is afoot. Now in a case like that, would you do, Billy Boy, if you were in Mr. Rabbit's place?"

"I would run for home just as fast as I could," Billy replied.

"Which would be the surest way of getting caught before you had taken a dozen jumps," Tinker replied. "For as soon as you started to run, Slinker or Hookbeak the Hawk, or whatever bird or beast of prey was stirring would be sure to see you. Mr. Rabbit knows that, so he stops short in his tracks and doesn't move a muscle, not even so wink. And that's what I mean by freezing."

"But can't Hookbeak see him just the same when he's sitting still?" asked Billy.

"No siree, Bob," replied Tinker. "Bunny has no way of defending himself against his enemies and is the most helpless of all the Little People when it comes to a fight. So old Mother Nature has given him a coat of darkness to help him fool his enemies. She has made his fur exactly the color of dead leaves and the bark of trees. So when Mr. Rabbit freezes it is almost impossible to see him, for he is the same color as his surroundings. Even in Hookbeak the Hawk looks straight at Bunny, he isn't likely to see him, or if he does, he thinks it is only a lump of dirt or a piece of bark. Then when the Hawk looks the other way, Mr. Rabbit dives in to the nearest briar patch and is safe."

"So whenever danger threatens, Bunny always freezes, and while he is sitting still makes up his mind what to do if that trick fails and he is found out."

IN LOVING MEMORY.

of William Edward Bieber. Baby William, thou hast left us. Left this world of grief and care, And thy life is but a memory, Ever bright and sweet and fair. Thou wert like a budding blossom, Opening slowly, fragrant, sweet, Giving sunshine, joy and gladness, Unto all you chanced to meet.

Parents, think not, that your baby is now lying 'neath the sod; Not so—one so pure and sinless—Little William is with God. And I seem to hear the angels, Sing a joyous "welcome Home", And I see a baby figure, Playing happy 'round the throne.

There he'll never know of sorrow Or of sickness or of pain, And there he'll be waiting for us We shall see him once again. We would not wish him here now, To be grieved with toil and strife, Heaven is now made one step nearer By his guileless, little life.

Jesus loves the little children For He said in days of old, "Suffer them to come unto Me". Little "lamb"—safe in His fold, Therefore, weep not for the baby, Who has entered Heaven's gate, We shall all soon cross the River And 'twill not be long to wait.

Precious baby, sinless darling, Thou art ever free from pain; But we'll love thee—ne'er forget thee, For thou didn't not live in vain. Thy beckoning hands will draw us closer,

To the Father, whom we love, And we'll dwell with thee immortal, In the Heavenly Home above. (By a Friend.)

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Emily Sweney (nee Smith), daughter of Mark A. Smith and Elizabeth Waite Smith, pioneers of Mason county, was born in Lynchburg township, Mason county, Illinois, October 2, 1842, and passed away at the home of her daughter, in Raton, New Mexico, Saturday morning April 3, 1915, at 9:17 a. m., being the age of 72 years and 7 months.

On Oct. 2, 1859 she was united in marriage to William M. Sweney, who passed away Feb. 13, 1886. To this union were born, all of whom remain to mourn the loss of a fond mother, Mrs. E. C. Lubricating Troubles —and their cure!

The Standard Oil Company is making a motor oil that has done away with all common lubricating troubles.

Seven years ago their experts placed this new but tested oil on the market. 1,100 gallons were sold the first year. Then motorists found it out.

1909's demand was for 335,000 gallons—1910's was for 1,118,400. In 1914 nearly 7,000,000 gallons were used in the Middle West alone.

Polarine has gained in sales an average of a million gallons yearly simply because its use eliminated the annoyance and delays incident to unsuitable lubricating oils. Hundreds of thousands of good cars have been saved from the scrap heap by its use. Use it in your motor. See what it does.

Polarine maintains the correct lubricating body at every motor speed and temperature.

It is produced by experts, with the help of perfect facilities, in the largest plant of its kind in the world.

FOR COMMISSIONER

GEORGE P. DAVIS

Now is the Time to Let Us Take Your Measure for That Light Weight Suit!

THESE RIGHT WARM DAYS WILL BE THE REGULAR ORDER OF THINGS ALMOST BEFORE YOU BEGIN TO REALIZE IT.

We believe that our work on your winter garments proved satisfactory to you, and for that reason, if no other, we should like the opportunity to show you the new and beautiful weaves for this season's wear, and the opportunity to prove to you that you may possess and wear tailored to measure clothing at as little cost as the kind that is made to fit just anybody.

The Newest Thing Brought Out and a Thing That Really is Remarkable!

Is our model suit maker. The wonderful point about this maker is that after you have selected a pattern you think might please you, we put it into this maker, where the pattern is instantly molded into suit shape, showing you exactly how the finished garments will appear. This great invention gives you the last word in satisfactory suit pattern selection. You may select as many different patterns as you like and have them molded for you and the final result is bound to be absolute satisfaction on your part.

WAS MISERABLE COULDN'T STAND

Testifies She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lackawanna, N. Y.—"After my first child was born I felt very miserable and could not stand on my feet. My sister-in-law wished me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my nerves became firm, appetite good, step elastic, and I lost that weak, tired feeling. That was six years ago and I have had three fine healthy children since. For female troubles I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it works like a charm. I do all my own work."—Mrs. A. F. KREAMER, 1574 Electric Avenue, Lackawanna, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

MR. ROWE'S OPINIONS.
George Hunt, connected with the Prairie Farmer, has been visiting Charles Rowe northwest of the city. Mr. Rowe says never did Morgan county have a better prospect than today and he says that even before the rain we were worse scared than hurt as nothing so far was especially suffering and we were more afraid of what would happen than of what had taken place.

Mr. Rowe places great value on the meetings of the farmers' club which have been held and says they have helped many a tiller of the soil to better work. The talks on oats has been of great benefit and the crop this year will show it. He says the exchange of views in this manner is very valuable and he pays a compliment to the Journal for the faithful reports given of the meetings.

VESPER SERVICE AT
STATE STREET CHURCH
The afternoon service will be resumed at State Street church beginning Sunday. The hour will be 4:20. It is the intention to make a special feature of the music at these services. This Sunday the Madrigal club of 22 voices from the Woman's college will sing, besides the regular anthems of the church quartet. The sermon theme will be suggested by the Beatitudes, "Blessed are the Peacemakers." The public is cordially invited to attend.

GIVE VIEWS ON OBLIGATIONS
ARISING FROM AMENDMENT

Roads Would Increase Certain Freight Rates and Modify Present Form of Bills of Lading—Traffic Associations Offer Counter Proposal.

Washington, April 10.—Increase of certain freight rates and modifications of the present form of bills of lading were proposed by railroad representatives, while a six months test under present conditions was the counter proposal of traffic associations, at a conference today called by the inter-state commerce commission to discover how carriers and shippers view candid obligations arising from the Cummins amendment to the railroad act. The amendment becomes effective on June 1st. The commission itself is understood not to be entirely clear as to its effect and today's conference was called to learn whether there is a common ground on which the railroads, the shippers and the commission can reach an adjustment.

After discussion that lasted all day, Commissioner Clark adjourned the conference but gave all parties permission to file briefs before April 20th.

MATHIS, KAMM AND SEIBE SAY: It's just the right time to get shippers for the children—our stock is very complete. Styles are right and price just as low as good merchandise can stand.

ROAD OFFICERS MET. A meeting of the Morgan county association of road district clerks and commissioners was held Saturday afternoon at the court house with a large attendance of members. The annual election of officers resulted in the choice of the following: president, John Snyder, Alexander; secretary and treasurer, Thomas J. Mum, Murrayville. The report of the treasurer showed a balance on hand of $24.30. The next meeting of the association will be held Saturday, May 1st, when there will be a discussion of road grading led by L. V. Baldwin, county superintendent of highways.

Joshua Vasconcellos
Candidate for Commissioner

Joshua Vasconcellos was born in Jacksonville July 25, 1865, and has spent his entire life here. He is a carpenter by trade and since 1891 has been a general contractor. Vasconcellos & Sons, the firm of which he is the head, is credited with some of the largest and best buildings in and around Jacksonville. This list includes the Old Peoples' Home, Nichols Park pavilion, Morrison Block, Illinois Hotel, C. & A. passenger station and freight house, L. O. O. F. temple, Illinois Steel Bridge Co.'s office, Passavant hospital nurses' home, The C. & A. passenger station at Lincoln and the high school building at Bluffs are among the out of town jobs that he has successfully handled.

Mr. Vasconcellos served as street commissioner under Mayor Theodore Tyrrell from April 21, 1893 to May 4, 1899, and the reports on file at the city hall show that he took excellent care of the high-way, side-street paving repair de-work and for the retopping of East Court street $6,193.06. It is worthy of mention, too, that from these reports it is shown that during his term of office Mr. Vasconcellos turned over to the city several sums received from the sale of dirt and old lumber. He was the first commissioner to use the drag on unpaved streets, and altogether the work of his department was conducted in a very efficient and business like way.

Mr. Vasconcellos served on the Jacksonville cemetery commission, and during that time the board submitted an ordinance to the city council which resulted in the vacating of land worth several thousand dollars to the city. For the past 8 or 10 years Mr. Vasconcellos has taken a very active part in the affairs of Northminster church and in various movements looking to the betterment of conditions in Jacksonville. He has the reputation of being ready with service in answer to every call, and whenever he serves on a committee, that committee is certain to accomplish something.

Although he makes no special "fuss" about his work, Mr. Vasconcellos is very active in all the departments of the church to which he belongs. Mr. Vasconcellos is an avowed enemy of the liquor traffic and has not hesitated to express his belief that Jacksonville is better off morally and financially without saloons. Needless to say he is a firm believer in the strict enforcement of all laws. In municipal affairs he believes that a candidate should not make too many promises, but he is willing for the people to take his record as evidence of what he stands for. He believes that the city should own its own light plant and should develop it to a proper degree, and that it is also important for the city to retain its water plant and to expend upon it all the money necessary to keep it in condition and to develop it in a manner justified by conditions.

CONSERVATORY NOTES.

Mrs. A. Wehl took Mrs. Wilson's place as soloist at the Congregational church on Sunday, April 4th.

Mrs. Wilson will sing, "I Know that My Redeemer Liveth" at the Congregational church on Sunday morning, April 11th.

Rehearsals are being held frequently for the spring performance of Gounod's opera, "Faust," which will be given late in May. The role of Faust will be sung by Mr. Clark Shipp, of Springfield, the other solo parts being taken by students of Mrs. Wilson. The Conservatory orchestra, under Mr. Kritch, is studying the score, which presents many beautiful as well as difficult parts for the strings.

Mr. Kritch and Mr. Munger will be in Springfield next Thursday evening to hear the oratorio "King Trojan," by Horatio Parker, given by the Musical club chorus.

Miss Marguerite Butler will give her song recital on Friday evening, April 23rd. She will be assisted by Miss Alice Phillips and an instrumental quartet composed of Misses Dunlap and Jerard and Mr. Paul Morrison, and Mr. Dean Cochran.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

Miss Isabel Muir, who has recently returned from missionary work in China, is a guest of the college making this her headquarters during her stay in this vicinity. Friday evening she gave a most interesting talk to the students.

Dr. Barker is in Chicago attending a meeting of the Chicago society. April 17th will occur the annual meeting of the St. Louis society. Dr. and Mrs. Barker expect to attend.

The art exhibition which closed Saturday evening has been of great educational benefit to the students as well as to the visitors who have taken advantage of this opportunity. More than 3,000 people have seen the exhibition. It would be hard to estimate the amount of good that this exhibition has done.

Mrs. Lambert has been spending several days in central Illinois arranging for the meeting of the Springfield society. She expected to be in Chicago Saturday to attend the meeting of the Chicago society.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES.

The Madrigal club of the Woman's college, the service of which has been in great demand throughout the year, will sing two numbers at the Vesper service at the State street Presbyterian church Sunday, April 11th, at 4:30 in the afternoon. When Arthur Shattuck, the distinguished pianist, was in Jacksonville he heard the Madrigal club sing and was very outspoken in his praise of their work, saying that he had rarely heard any choral organization of young people sing with such beauty of tone, musicianship and authority. The Madrigal club has sung twice at the Grace Methodist, once at the Centenary Methodist, twice at the Presbyterian church and once at the Sunday afternoon Vesper service at the college. The club has been under the direction of Mr. Stearns all year.

On Thursday afternoon occurred the regular bi-weekly pupils' recital in the College of Music at which the following program was given:

On Thursday afternoon, April 15th, at 1:15 in the chapel, Miss Ina Berryman, senior in voice, will give her graduating recital. An interesting program of old Italian, Modern French, German and English songs has been prepared. Miss Deane Obermeyer will be at the piano for Miss Berryman.

The rehearsals for the chorus in the Greek play to be given in May on the college campus are progressing very satisfactorily under Mr. Stearns' direction.

On Saturday evening, April 10th, Mrs. Florence Pierron Hartmann, of the voice department, sang a group of songs for the T. P. A. at their annual banquet at the Dunlap hotel. Miss Deane Obermeyer accompanied Mrs. Hartmann.

Mr. Stearns has been invited to lecture before the high school at Virginia.

Miss Laura Phillips, of Vancouver, B. C., has enrolled for piano and voice in the College of Music.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES.

The Social club of Illinois college gave a masquerade party at Academy hall on Friday evening.

The regular college devotional meeting will be held at Academy hall Sunday evening at 6:30.

W. T. Harmon has been visiting various high schools to display the handsome clips that will be offered in connection with the interscholastic meet.

Principal Walter Leslie Harris of Whipple academy will deliver the commencement address at the Mulberry Grove commencement exercises on April 30.

Prof. Isabel S. Smith has not been able to meet her classes recently on account of illness.

Prof. Sherman Leavitt, who has been confined to the house by illness, expects to meet his classes as usual on Monday.

Prof. Samuel N. Harper, who is to deliver the address before the local Alumni association on "Russia," will be the guest at the home of President and Mrs. Rammelkamp during his sojourn in the city.

The German books which recently arrived are being cataloged and will soon be available for the students. This large order of books was made possible not only through an appropriation from the college treasury, but also through the kindness of Thomas Worthington and Dr. O. L. Schmidt of Chicago.

HARRY CLARKE RENALLE.

Mr. Harry Clarke Renalle, who together with his wife is producing the forthcoming K. C. Home Talent Entertainment at the Grand theatre on Wednesday, April 14th, is a man who has had a noteworthy and varied career.

Educated at Eton college, he graduated at Cambridge University, England, and entered on a literary career.

At the age of twenty he became special correspondent for the London Times. His first assignment being with the first team of English Crickets touring Australia, with whom he traveled the entire route.

He then saw service of several years in India and in the course of his duties he has visited every court in Europe. He served on the staff of the present commander-in-chief of the British forces now fighting in France, General French, during the last Boer War, in which he saw two years active service and received the D. S. O. for distinguished services.

Mr. Renalle was unfortunate to lose his left arm shortly after the battle of Elandslaagte being struck with a poisoned bullet while carrying in a wounded non-commissioned officer of the New South Wales Mounted Colonials, under a cross-fire. It was for this act that he received his decoration.

Sanwiched in between his services on The Times, Mr. Renalle gave his attention to theatrical matters and is the author of several well known European successes, notably a romantic tragedy of the Fourteenth Century entitled "Twixt Love and Creed", produced by Julia Nielsen and Frederick Terry at the old Globe Theatre, London, where it had a very successful run.

For several seasons he was connected as stage director and advisor with the late Sir Henry Irving and helped the noted English actor, Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, in his notable production "Ulysses".

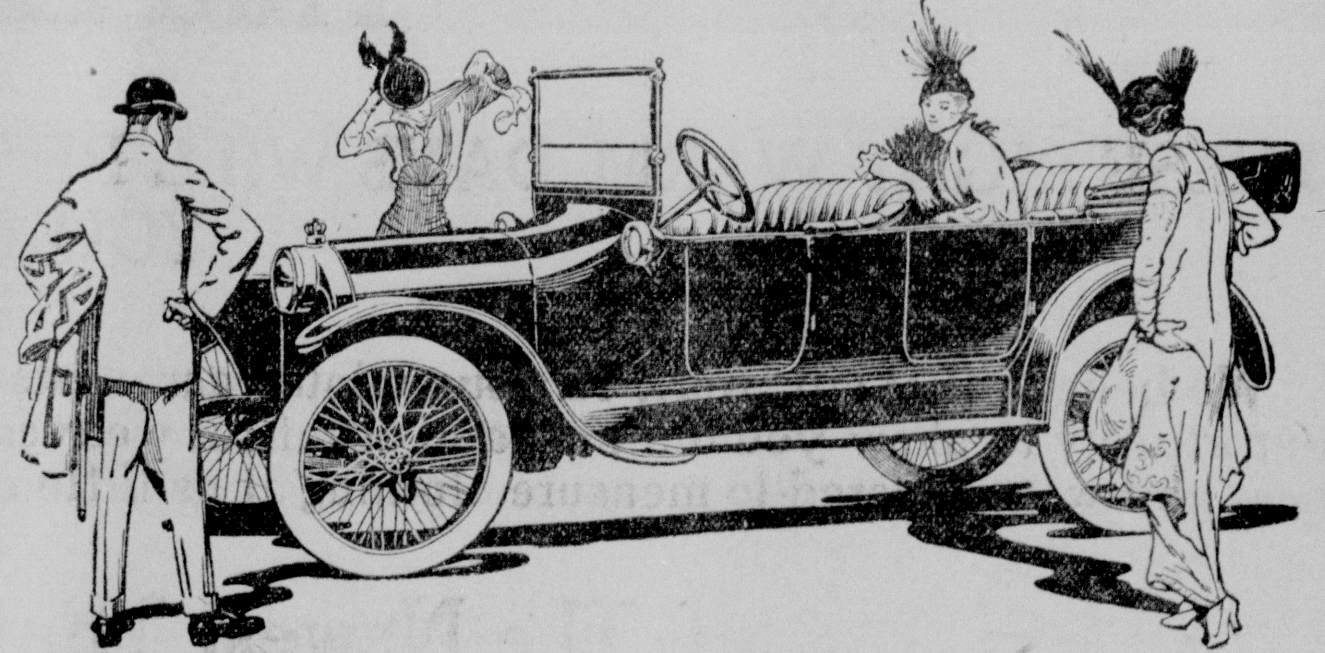

Since coming to this country Mr. Renalle has been connected with several larger eastern productions and has made a complete tour of the well known Orpheum and Sullivan and Considine Circuits in vaudeville.

He met his wife three years ago while on tour and as he laughingly says, "The best and wisest thing I have ever done in the whole forty-four years of my existence was to get married, and the only regret I have is that my wife and I did not meet sooner."

Mrs. Renalle is the daughter of a very well known and prominent Illinois family, being born at Ashley, a town in the central part of the state. Her home is now in Tulsa, Oklahoma where the Renalles make their headquarters. She is a brilliant little woman, highly educated and has a strong and pleasing personality. She was connected for several years as society editor for the Tulsa Post.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Renalle are enthusiasts in their work and have a great number of friends through the many states in which they have traveled.

They both speak very highly of the courtesy and kindness that has been shown them in Jacksonville and are loud in their praise of the young people under their direction for the forthcoming play.

The Luxury of a Lewis Six

Seated upon deep, hand-buffed leather upholstery in a car hung upon long under-slung springs, one glides over the roughest roads in absolute comfort. A ride in a Lewis Six is a jarless ride; there is no noise but the soft, rhythmic purr of a perfect motor—scarcely audible. The 135-inch wheel base, the graceful lines adapted from Europe's greatest 1915 cars, are but a few of the many attributes of perfection that are found in the wonderful

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

WHEAT UNDERGOES DIP AT START; CLOSING PRICES ARE UNSETTLED

Evidence That Offerings of Spot and May Deliveries Were Passing Into Strong Hands Force Would-be Sellers to be Extremely Cautious.
Chicago, April 10.—Evidence that offerings of spot and May deliveries were passing into strong hands forced would be sellers of wheat today to be extremely cautious about selling on bear news. In consequence the market closed unsettled, he off to be up, compared with last night. Corn finished 1/4c lower, oats varying from 1/2c down to 1/4c advance and provisions at a rise of 1/2c to 20c.

Wheat underwent a dip at the start, owing to good rains over the greater part of the winter crop territory that had been complaining of dry weather. On the break, however, shorts who tried to cover found offerings to have become surprisingly small. The May option in particular had been absorbed in small lots by houses which generally need for the seaboard.

Lightness of the May contracts regulated then to an unusual extent the course of the new crop months, traders being influenced largely by messages from Duluth,
Winnipeg, Minneapolis and Kansas City that millers and exporters were persistently endeavoring to buy cash and May. Cables reports that the Anglo-French and Russian fleets were again attacking the defenses of Constantinople tended to ease the wheat market somewhat during the last half hour. Special attention was given to the Turkish situation as the dispatches intimated that an attack was also to be made on Adrianople, a circumstance which if true would mean the first time in the present war the Turks in Europe had been assailed from both the sea and land at once.

Corn sagged early and late with wheat. The bulls were handicapped by the slowness of cash demand.
Covering on the part of shorts during the market relatively firm in the middle of the session. Oats were easy because of beneficial rains. Continued export inquiry, however, prevented any radical setback.

Advances in the provision market could be traced largely to the expected resumption of hog shipments from here on Monday.
Cash demand from the south was said to have improved.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

BROAD PROFIT TAKING RESTRAINS FURTHER SPECULATIVE EXCESSES

Higher Prices are Established and in Some Instances Retained on the Largest Week-end Business in Six Years.

New York, April 10.—Profit-taking of a broad character, in which Europe participated to an unusual degree, was almost the sole restraint upon further speculative excesses in the stock market today.
Even so, higher prices were established and in some instances retained on the largest week-end business in six years.

At the opening, which was marked by much confusion and excitement, practically all the leading stocks and a majority of the specialties moved somewhat unevenly towards levels substantially above yesterday's high figures. United States steel was the outstanding feature, interest converging around that stock because of its meteoric rise the day before. Opening at a fractional advance it soon gained a full point at 58, but as speedily fell back to 52 1/2 under the weight of enormous offerings. Its close was 56, a one point loss on dealings in excess of 180,000 shares.

Bethlehem steel was the exception to the general tendency falling back two points in the early dealings and increasing this loss to four

WHY JACKSONVILLE NEEDS A PLACE FOR TREATING TUBERCULOSIS

(By Miss Katherine M. Olmsted.)

Down in a little street in this well meaning and beautiful city of Jacksonville a little boy of only ten years is suffering with an advanced case of tuberculosis. Each day when the nurse leaves his bedside after having done all she can to make him more comfortable, she thinks surely that day will end his suffering and leave his cough-racked little body at rest. Each day she begs his aunt for the boy to follow the doctor's orders, keep the windows up and let the boy sleep in his own bed—that his poor little airstarved lungs may get all the oxygen possible. Each morning the aunt tells how cold he got, how he coughed and how she just had to wrap him up tight in a hot woolly blanket and put him in her bed to keep away those "terrible night breezes."

Every day though he grows weaker and thinner and we in Jacksonville have no place we can send him where he could be cared for and saved from a disease known to be so readily curable and so easily prevented.

The nurse goes on down the street and stops into a house, where she had just found a new patient the evening before and the door is opened for her by two tiny youngsters with pinched pale old little faces.
These lead her into the other room where she finds the mother, an emaciated coughing neglected suffering woman. This morning her eyes are bright and she smiles. "He's got work, way out in the country and he can get in most every Sunday.
Me and the children can get along somehow and we won't be starving now as he is working. Yes, Janie ain't very old, she's only eight, but she does all the work and cares for the other three, and she ain't growed a bit since she was five, she coughs some too—guess she hears me doing it so much."

While the nurse was bathing the mother, and fixing the nice clean sheets on the bed, she explains to the sick woman how she has a nice big loan chest filled with clean sheets and gowns just to loan to sick mothers and people who needed them. The woman said, "Them women who gave you these sheets and this nice night gown are very good women and you thank them for me."
The nurse promised and she straightened up the room and urged the children not to play on the bed and to stay out of doors. She could not help but think first the little lad, down sick and dying with a preventable disease, a mother infecting four more children and an open air school taking great and successful strides toward curing dozens of children already infected. She could not but help thinking of the great need of a place, a tent colony, or some place where advanced cases can be cared for and hundreds of children saved, a place where children too sick to come to the school can be cured and those from homes too infected and too crowded can be kept until cured.

TRAVELING MEN IN ANNUAL BANQUET

MEMBERS OF POST O. T. P. A.
AROUND FESTAL BOARD.

Wives and Sweethearts Join in Festivities at Dunlap Hotel—Alfred Doolittle Acts as Toastmaster and Splendid Toasts Were Given.

A merry gathering of a hundred traveling men with their wives and sweethearts presented a fine appearance at the Dunlap House last evening at the seventeenth annual banquet of Post O. T. P. A. of this city. The committee of arrangements, L. H. Kraus, president; H.
B. Myers, Louis Cain, secretary and W. D. Gates all did their duty well and the result was a fine success.

After all had gathered around the festal board Rev. W. W. Whorton, for 18 years state chaplain of Texas, invoked the divine blessing and then all proceeded to enjoy a well-served banquet which was excellent and left nothing to be desired.

President Kraus called the members to order after the banquet and with complimentary remarks for all present, introduced as toastmaster of the evening, Alfred Doolittle who took his place with well chosen remarks and in a remarkably happy manner introduced the speakers of the evening with compliments for the banquet, the hotel, Capt. Smith and the committee.

The numbers were most pleasantly interspersed with vocal music by Mrs. Florence Pierson Hartmann, head of the vocal department of the Woman's college, who sang with great ability, culture and acceptance, no small part of the credit being due to the excellent accompanying of Miss Dora Oermeyer whose skill on the piano is well known.

Frank Byrns.
The first speaker of the evening was Frank Byrns whose theme was,
"The patronage the traveling man owes his home town." The fine public spirit of Mr. Byrns and the energy he has ever displayed in promoting the welfare of Jacksonville led all to listen to him with close attention.

He said in brief: This sentiment will well be reversed for the town owes the traveling salesman as well as his debt to the town. Either could get along without the other but both are of great use to the ather, or may be. We want the traveling salesman if possible to live in the city and I am safe in saying that while it is often hard to get merchants to patronize their home traveling salesman I think Jacksonville is an exception in that regard.
Each citizen owes his town a debt of loyalty and I think the traveling salesmen living here are aware of that and live up to their duty. In fine it may be said the traveling salesmen best serve his town when he is faithful in every line of duty.

John M. DePew.
With highly complimentary remarks the toastmaster next introduced the venerable John M. DePew who has been a traveling salesman for fifty years, a rare instance of long and capable service. The gentleman said he had been on the road
each month of the past fifty years and had traveled easily 1,580,000 miles and had never been in a serious accident. He had known personally every passenger conductor on the Chicago & Alton road since the beginning of its service. Many interesting things he told and his remarks were heard with profound attention.

U. G. Woodman then highly entertained the company with some facts of magic with great acceptance and was loudly applauded.

The last speaker was Rev. W. W.
Whorton of Roodhouse whose theme was "For those we love." For many years he had been state chaplain of Texas and paid an especial tribute to the memory of Homer T.
Wilson, for 18 years National chaplain of the order and now no more.
His remarks were eloquent and touching and made a profound impression on all who heard them and they well deserve a full report if it were possible. He closed with the following beautiful lines:
So I say tonight,
Let Time in his flight
Unwinding and the winds be stilled,
Let the stars salute,
Let the tides be mute
And the heart be thrilled, be thrilled.

For with lips of praise,
For length of days,
And blessings from Him above,
I propose a toast,
That's divine almost,
A toast to the ones we love.

W. F. Widmayer, Candidate for Commissioner

William F. Widmayer, one of the candidates for commissioner, was born in Jacksonville, Sept. 12, 1863.
His education was begun in the German Lutheran parochial school and later he attended the first ward public school and finished a course at Brown's Business college in May, 1887. Practically all of his business life has been in the packing and meat industries. From 1890 to 1895 he was associated with his father, the late Charles H. Widmayer, under the firm name of C.

H. Widmayer Son, wholesale and retail meat dealers. In December, 1898, he was one of those instrumental in organizing the Jacksonville Meat Co., now the Jacksonville Packing Co., and served as its secretary and treasurer until October 1, 1901, when he sold his interest and secured a position with the S.
S. Co., packers, now Sulzberger & Sons Co.

In this work he was located variously at Kansas City, Chicago, Springfield and Des Moines, and when he resigned the position it was to enter the retail meat business in this city, Oct. 1, 1908. He has conducted a market at 217
West State street since that time and in January of this year opened another market at 302 East State street.

Mr. Widmayer's career has been marked by a strict attention to business, and he has been more than ordinarily successful. In politics and public affairs Mr. Widmayer has taken an open stand and has been a fearless champion of those things that he considers right. He is a believer in a progressive city government and has strict ideas as to the conscientious conduct of city officials. Mr. Widmayer was married August 29, 1895, to Miss Emily H. Huggett, and they have three children, Charles, Hazel and Ida.

KANSAS HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS LEARN PRACTICAL JOURNALISM

George W. Turner of Kansas City Kan., Teaches English by Laboratory Method—School Has Regular Column in Daily Paper.

A new method of teaching English is being worked out in Kansas City, Kan., high school where students learn lessons in practical newspaper making. The work is in charge of George W. Turner, a graduate of the University of Missouri school of Journalism, and is proving one of the most popular courses in the English department. High school journalism represents a new departure in educational methods and the work of Mr. Turner's advanced composition pupils is being watched with interest by teachers far and wide. The "Gazette-Globe", Kansas City daily, allows the class a two-column space each day and this is filled with notes from the school and news of the city as well.

Mr. Turner was formerly of Virginia, Cass county, and in 1912 was graduated from Illinois college. He has had practical newspaper experience as well as theoretical training in the Missouri school. Pupils write all the matter for the Gazette-Globe columns although the "teacher-editor" is compelled often to cut mercilessly and to give close attention that no matter libelous in any way creeps by.

It is not the purpose of the high school to turn out finished journalists, says Mr. Turner. It is the plan rather to teach constructive English from the journalistic standpoint. A new vitality and fascination is thus lent a subject which too often becomes dry and discouraging to the student.

Said Mr. Turner recently in discussing the work in his classes: "The Gazette-Globe prints our copy exactly as we send it to the office. We are given a certain place in the paper and our matter is printed under a special heading. In this way we have a medium for publication and at the same time are relieved of the business responsibility that would attend the publication of a high school paper. The plan has advantages also that the copy is printed each day."

From the standpoint of the paper the plan has proved successful as the many new subscribers among parents and friends of the students have materially swelled the subscription list of the daily.

Besides regular news stories, editorials and features are essayed. Jokes and personals are discouraged for the most part. Besides these, the students are required to write at least one interview each week, and other forms of writing are tried by the composition students from time to time.

NO. 13 GIVES WORK.

Miss Eva Breitwiser and Henry S. Rayborn were received into Jacksonville Rebekah Lodge No. 13 Friday evening at the regular meeting of that order at Odd Fellows' Temple, East State street. The entertainment committee, which had in charge a luncheon after the work, was composed of Mrs. William Ricks, Mrs. Payton Berry, Mrs. Mahoney, Mrs. Patton and Mrs. Angelo. A number were present from Caritas Lodge No. 625.

All the hats that are new can be found at Garland & Co.

Because the citizens of Waverly were instrumental in a township high school being voted upon favorably some of the farmers it is said who were opposed to the high school have stated that they would still further their opposition by trading elsewhere than Waverly. The land included in the township district is a big number of acres. The election carried by a vote of 102.

TO INSCRIBE NAMES OF DONORS ON BEDS OF BELGIAN RED CROSS

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Hospital beds of the Belgian Red Cross subscribed for by Americans will be inscribed with the names of their donors, according to a cable message received today by Madame DePage, wife of Dr. DePage who is head of the field hospital service in Belgium and also surgeon to King Albert. Mrs. DePage is touring the United States in the interest of the Belgian Red Cross work. A single bed costs its donor $30, she said, while $1,000 will equip a ward and $20,000 a complete hospital unit of 100 beds, supplies and medical staff.

Writing to Mrs. DePage, Queen Elizabeth expresses appreciation for what Americans have already done in Belgium and adds:

"I feel very sure that we shall very soon have still a new debt of thanks to add to the gratitude we owe the United States."

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Social and Parcel Post Sale Held.

The ladies aid of the Christian church at Franklin held a social and parcel post sale at Olinger's hall Saturday afternoon. The affair was quite a success and the parcels, which sold well, contained many lovely hand made articles. Tea and cakes were served during the afternoon. The committee in charge of the social and sale was composed of: Mrs. J. M. Elder, Mrs. J. Tranbarger, Mrs. Ollie Mayfield and Mrs. C. R. Morris. A great number of the parcels which were sold were sent to the ladies aid by ladies living out of town. Among those living away from Franklin who sent parcels to the sale were Mrs. R. Hocking, Mrs. Beatrice McKinney, Mrs. Robert Ranson, Mrs. James Robinson, Mrs. Barbara Challiner, Mrs. Homer Ranson, Mrs. M. Carter and Mrs. Burley Jones of Jacksonville; Miss Ethel Bruner of Bloomington, Mrs. R. A. Jolly of Bloomington, Mrs. T. C. Wood, Mrs. Bert Scott, and Mrs. W. A. CHILD LABOR LEGISLATION IS DISCUSSED BY EDGAR T. DAVIES

Woman's Club in April Meeting at Public Library Hears Interesting Address by Former Chief Factory Inspector and Goes on Record in Favor of Bill.

Edgar T. Davies of Chicago, former chief factory inspector of Illinois, addressed the members of the Jacksonville Woman's club, assembled for the April meeting at the public library, on child labor legislation and the status of woman in industry. He dealt with these problems in a matter of fact way, drawing upon years of practical experience for illustration. In all cases he urged the necessity of "companion legislation" and the taking of measures for thorough enforcement of the laws that are passed.

Miss Laura White, Mrs. L. S. Doane and Mrs. L. O. Vaughn were named to report at the next meeting as a nominating committee and Miss Janette Powell, Mrs. Thomas Heaton and Mrs. E. P. Brockhouse were selected to look after preparations for the May breakfast. The club voted to recommend the child labor bill and to favor its adoption.

A wand drill by pupils of the open air school was a pleasing feature of the afternoon. After the drill Dr. Josephine Milligan spoke in favor of the proposed one mill property tax to help in the fight against tuberculosis. Mrs. Havenhill, the president, called the meeting to order, introducing as chairman, Mrs. Harrison W. King, head of the educational committee.

Arthur Rochester of Manchester was a visitor in Jacksonville yesterday.

J. H. S. WILL HAVE DUEL

TRACK MEET WITH WHITE HALL

Coach Buland Will Take Squad of Players to Greene County for Athletic Contest Next Saturday.

Jacksonville High school and White Hall High school will hold a duel track meet next Saturday afternoon at White Hall. It will be remembered that White Hall won the meet of the Western Illinois High school league here last year. They have only lost one of their bright stars so that with the local lads working hard and figuring on a victory the meet promises to be fast from start to finish. The contest will be pulled off in the afternoon and the officials are to be announced later.

Coach Buland has the following men trying out for places:

440 and 880 yard runs—W. Hembrough (Capt.), B. Thompson, H. Swain, Ed Smith.

Dashes, weights and hurdles—Killbrew.

One mile run—Howard Reynolds.

Broad jump and dashes—Howard Reynolds.

Dashes—C. Spencer.

Weights—E. Meyers.

Hurdles—William Hudson, Edward Tomlinson.

Pole vault—H. Ricks, Ferguson.

Half mile—E. Martin.

Relay race—Hembrough, Reynolds, Killbrew, Spencer, Thompson and Hudson.

GIVE PLAY AND BOX SOCIAL

Interesting Evening Spent at North Prairie Seminary North of Winchester.

An entertainment of merit was enjoyed at North Prairie Seminary, one mile west of Riggston, Friday evening when a play was given under the direction of the teacher, Miss Bernice Burrus. The title of the drama was "Back to the Country Store." The cast of characters follows:

Mr. Higginbotham—Paul Gillham.

Mrs. Higginbotham—Maude Gillham.

Quigley (Higginbotham)—Clifford Allan.

Miss Margaret VanBuren—Mildred Burns.

Dudley Weatherwax—Russell Burns.

Mr. Huckston—Ralph Gillham.

Marie Judkins—Mabel Vortman.

Mrs. Timeless—Mayme Shipley.

Her three daughters—Ruth Ruth-erford, Rebecca Gillham and Mabel Shipley.

All who took part in the production of this play acquitted themselves well and showed that much time and study had been done to make the affair a success.

After the conclusion of the play Miss Louise Leach gave several interesting readings which were much appreciated.

Songs by the school children and several selections on Mr. Lou Coulas' graphophone were also enjoyed.

The box social which followed was quite a success, the boxes selling well and $17.50 was realized from this endeavor.

Much credit is due Miss Burrus, the teacher, for the success of the entire evening's entertainment.

FRANKLIN TEACHER BRINGS PUPILS TO JACKSONVILLE

Miss Bessie G. Hart, a teacher in the schools of Franklin brought several of the pupils of the intermediate department to Jacksonville Friday where they visited the State School for the Blind, the State School for the Deaf, took a jitney ride about the city, ate refreshments, and left over the Wabash for Alexander where they went overland to their homes in Franklin. It is needless to say that the outing was greatly enjoyed.

The pupils were Madeline Olinger, Pauline Olinger, Dorothy Featherstone, Anna Wright, Grace Tribble, Lillian Tranbarger, Lucille Bland, Myrtle Dell Fields, Otto Beerup, John Wright, Clarence Turner, Wilbur Seymour, Wyman Bland and Justus Luttrell.

MUCH INTEREST MANIFESTED IN BIG HIGH SCHOOL MEET

The interest is growing daily in the big high school meet here May first, under the auspices of Illinois college. Among those schools who have signified that they intended to enter teams are Virden, Girard, Litchfield, Carlinville, Staunton, Hillsboro, Waverly, Macomb, White Hall, Greenfield, Vermont, Tabbs Grove, Waynesville, Ashland, Roodhouse, Beardstown, Raymond, Jacksonville, Virginia and Granite City.

The declamation contest which is to be held in connection with the meet is causing much enthusiasm among the high schools of central Illinois and Prof. J. G. Ames, who has this in charge, is daily receiving letters from those who want to enter the contest.

Dr. and Mrs. E. Sipes and Miss Ruth Fernandes left Saturday for Los Angeles, Calif.

MRS. SARAH G. BEESLEY ANSWERS FINAL CALL

HAD BEEN RESIDENT OF JACKSONVILLE FIFTY YEARS.

Was Widow of Benjamin F. Beesley, Former Cashier of the Jacksonville National Bank—Deceased Had Been an Invalid for Past Seven Years.

Mrs. Sarah G. Beesley, one of the highly respected residents of the city, and the widow of the late B. F. Beesley, former cashier of the Jacksonville National bank, died at her home, 206 Caldwell street, Saturday evening at 8:50 o'clock. She had been an invalid for six or seven years and suffered greatly from rheumatism. During the last five weeks, however, her illness became more acute.

She was a woman of strong character, of vigorous mind and intellect up to the very last. She hated sham and insincerity and her character was marked by frankness and openness. She had clear and positive theories about what she deemed right and followed closely in the path of duty. At heart, a woman of great tenderness and kindness, she was charitable and liberal and, in a quiet way, was helpful to many people. (She was of a sweet and lovely disposition and, although during the later years of her life, as an invalid, she suffered a great deal of pain, she was never known to complain and bore her lot in life most patiently. She was a woman loved and admired by all who knew her. In her going Jacksonville has lost a valuable and influential member of the community.

Mrs. Beesley was a daughter of William and Nancy Gordon. She was born January 12, 1836 in the Lynnville neighborhood. She was reared in this vicinity and early in life united with the Christian church at Lynnville. On July 17, 1861 she became the wife of Benjamin Franklin Beesley. To this union five children were born. They are: Dr. Gordon Beesley of Bloomington, Harry of Los Angeles, Mrs. May Beesley Adam of this city, and Miss Helen L. Beesley, also of Jacksonville. The other child, Benjamin, died at the age of four years. Mr. Beesley died in 1892. Besides the children one sister, Mrs. Lilla Jones, of this city, and one grandchild, Dorothy Adam, survive. Four brothers, John, William, and David Gordon and Samuel Heaton, and one sister, Mrs. Mary H. Carter, preceded her in death.

After her marriage to Mr. Beesley in 1861 Mrs. Beesley became affiliated with the Presbyterian church, to which her husband belonged, and at the time of her death was a member of Westminster church. The first four years of her married life Mrs. Beesley resided at Bath, Ill. Since 1865 however Jacksonville has been her home.

The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at the residence on Caldwell street at 4 o'clock in charge of Rev. Dr. A. B. Morey. Interment will be made in Diamond Grove cemetery.

SEARCH FOR WORKMEN TO REPLACE ONES AFFECTED BY LOCKOUT ORDER

Order Voted by Chicago Employers Becomes Effective Automatically When a Union Refuses to Sign an Agreement.

Chicago, April 10.—Representatives of the Chicago Building Constructors Employers' association left here today for various parts of the country in search for workmen to replace those who will be affected by the general lockout order voted yesterday. This order becomes effective automatically when a union refuses to sign an agreement.

A meeting of the employers in the sheet metal trades will be held on Monday to decide whether they will abide by the lockout order voted by the association. The threatened strike of milk wagon drivers was averted, it was announced today when the men withdrew their demand for six working days a week instead of seven and agreed to accept an annual vacation. The length of the vacation is to be decided by an arbitration committee. The men want two weeks. The employers offered ten days annually. During the day letters were sent to all members of the building trades organization urging the workmen to adopt prohibition as a "war measure."

Garland has the boys suits that are different.

CATARH IN HORSES.

Catarrh trouble in horses has been noticed in large amount the past few days, owing to the change in season and the liability of horses to take cold when heavy winter blankets are removed. The affection, which may be likened to grip with human beings, takes several forms as pneumonia, cystitis and laryngitis.

Painting—outside or indoors guaranteed by Alden Brown. Estimates given on any grade of work.

Miss Martha Lakin of Manchester was among the visitors in Jacksonville Saturday.
